Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Art Shipkey went as far as Gallup to see the Apache Indians put on their devil dance, a weird performance which lifts your hair straight up if you have any, and gives you a feeling that the next move is a tomahawk reaving around your scalp. Why any one would care to go through that ordeal even if the Indians didn't mean it, is more than I can figure out, unless one craves excitement.

Tom Neal brought Pat Kelly, Frank Schroeder and Bert Hoffman home from a fishing trip into the Bishop area. It is the first quartet to return with a report that the mosquitoes did not bother them, but Neal explains that the season is getting late for mosquitoes. The fishing was excellent. Tom reports more than they could eat, and that tallies with the evidence. He didn't bring any home with him. The fishermen arrived in time to participate in the dove season which opened at 7 o'clock Thursday morning for some hunters and at 5 o'clock for others. The law validated at former hour.

Next time I'll take after Earl Abbey and get that coroner job. With Harry Hanson as campaign manager I'll give Earl a run for his money — meaning Hanson's money. I haven't any.

Request for another candidates hall of fame has been granted, and Jim Davis gets position No. 1. That seems appropriate as he is a candidate for judge in department No. 1, superior court. This service will be impartial, inexpensive, and probably worth it. So if you survived the primary and want publicity in my "office" bring in your card.

Let's hope the cleaners take hold of the next election. The one just closed, in some respects, was too dirty for a clean community.

One of these mornings if you are passing Joe Harless' home on Oak street, you see Recorder Fred Sidelbottom mowing the lawn, you will know that Fred is paying an election bet. Joe bet him that he (Fred) would win the election in the primary. That's what happened. I don't know now whether Harless is a wise guy when it comes to politics, or just wants something to blow about.

The "back to school" signs appearing in display windows receive a rather indifferent welcome on the part of those who are to return. However, there comes an end to all the "back to school" signs, there isn't much writin' any more. And not nearly enough spelling.

Even the elements are against Japan. Worst storm in thirty years hit Tokyo and devastating results followed. With the Chinese on one side and the Russians on the same side, and the elements throwing in a few bolts against the Japs, it looks like hell had broke loose.

Some of the election contests were so close they gave candidates the jitters, but that's all some of them got out of the campaign.

Ranchers Organize Posse and Search Bear River Valley

YUBA CITY, (AP)—A posse of ranchers, armed with rifles and pistols, joined in the search for Mrs. William R. Meeks, 55, and two young men who, her husband reported, kidnaped her early today and demanded $15,000 ransom by midnight Saturday on threat of death.

Meeks said he could not raise the money, even if he sold his ranch.

HUSBAND BOUND

Sheriff A. W. Kimerer of Yuba county said the men left Meeks lying trussed up on his living room floor and drove away in his automobile, later found abandoned in Marysville, 12 miles north of the Meeks ranch home.

Meeks said the men carried his wife, bound hand and foot, from the house, and twice told him, "Unless you pay $15,000 by midnight Saturday, you'll never see your wife again."

Kimerer said the rancher told him he was instructed to leave the ransom money at a fruit-loading station about three miles northeast of the Meeks ranch home.

SEARCH VALLEY

The posse of ranchers divided forces near Meeks' orchard, and began to search the Bear River valley. The ranchers believed the men might be hiding in the lowlands along the streams, or might have fled and left Mrs. Meeks hidden near the river.

Kimerer said Meeks told him the men spoke with an "Oklahoma accent." This prompted the sheriff to theorize the men were dust-bowl refugees. Meeks also said they talked about "the electric chair." Kimerer pointed out that if the men were Californians they would have spoken of the lethal chamber or hanging. Oklahoma has the electric chair.

GUARDSMEN AID

Meeks said the men were young, roughly dressed and that both carried pistols.

At the request of Gov. Frank F. Merriam, Adj. Gen. H. H. Morehead, at Sacramento, ordered two national guard companies to report to local authorities to aid in the search.

The men were described by Kimerer as about 24 years of age, and 5 feet, 9 or 10 inches tall. They wore white handkerchiefs across the lower part of their faces.

F. B. I. TAKES CHARGE

The federal bureau of investigation, the state highway patrol and Yuba county forces of Sutter and Yuba counties joined the hunt to find the first kidnapers for ransom to operate in northern California for nearly five years. Notified of the kidnapping by the Associated Press, F.B.I. men "moved in" and took charge.

Meeks first saw the kidnapers when he and his wife turned back into the house shortly after saying good-night to friends with whom they had spent the evening playing cards.

The men spoke roughly, ripped up a pillow case, tied up the Meeks with the strips and then ransacked the house.

It was when they returned from the search of the house that the men spoke of kidnapping. Deliberately they went outside, unlocked the garage and backed the Meeks automobile up to the front porch. They picked up Mrs. Meeks and carried her out, leaving the orchardist to struggle free.

Mother, Minister Deny Death Guilt

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Volstead and Rev. Wilbur Alvis, a minister, pleaded innocent today when they appeared in superior court on manslaughter charges growing out of the death of the woman's nine-year-old son, Francis, Aug. 8.

The youth, a coroner's jury found, succumbed to a ruptured appendix, and the state charges the mother and minister prayed for the victim but failed to allow the necessary surgery to be performed.

Attack on Recall Plan in L. A. Fails

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The civil suit brought by three taxpayers to halt the recall election of Mayor Frank Shaw was, in effect, thrown out of court today. Superior Judge Louis C. Drapeau of Ventura county, brought here to hear the case, held that the courts have no jurisdiction to enjoin Los Angeles city officials from proceeding with the election Sept. 16.

Election Boards Called

Two Santa Ana election boards were summoned to appear before county supervisors today to explain tangled and erroneous returns they submitted after Tuesday's primary.

In one of the precincts non-partisan offices were concerned, which indicated there might be a difference in the hotly-contested race for a place on the November ballot for judge of department two of superior court.

WEST LEADS ALLEN

In the other precinct errors were apparent in ballots for county central committees.

Whether the errors could be explained, and whether they would make any difference in the superior court contest, was not known. Franklin G. West to date is leading Superior Judge James L. Allen by 173 votes for second place in the primary to Justice Kenneth E. Morrison—and errors in precinct counts together with absentee ballots might tell the story. Absentee ballots will not be counted until next Tuesday.

S. A. PRECINCTS

The two precincts whose officials were cited in by County Clerk E. J. Smith were Santa Ana No. 33 and Santa Ana No. 35.

Officials in the former are T. P. Kingre, 316 Beverly place; Mattie P. Tingley, 221 Wisteria place; Leora J. Curren, 330 Normandy place; Marie Roehm, 1127 Orange avenue; A. B. Scholes, 1112 Cypress avenue, and May E. Carlson, 213 Normandy place.

TO FACE BOARD TODAY

Officials cited in from Santa Ana No. 35 are Nellie J. Hill, 1403 South Main street; Dorothy Gottlieb, 1406 Maple street; Mollie G. Tyrrell, 1423 South Main street; Helen Pitt, 1449 Cypress avenue; Rufus D. Robison, 312 Stanford street, and Geoffrey H. Wilde, 1434 Orange avenue.

Citations issued by Smith when the discrepancies were found as county supervisors canvassed the vote called on the election board to explain their returns to the county board. They were being summoned by Constables Charles Mitchell and Jesse L. Elliott, and were expected in the board room this afternoon.

Kennedy Gives Tip To Europeans

ABERDEEN, Scotland, (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy gave Europe's leaders a tip today—to follow the example of the United States and Great Britain in settling their differences.

He expressed confidence that British-American devotion to the principle of "good natured settlement" would "keep us out of war." The ambassador spoke at a luncheon preceding a Scottish-American-Anglican church ceremony at the Cathedral of Aberdeen.

Heir to Millions Divorced by Wife

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Irving I. Ingraham, heir to watch millions, today was divorced by Mae Bower Ingraham, one-time Sennett bathing queen, because "he went for a walk around the block and never came back."

Last April 2, Mrs. Ingraham told Superior Judge Dudley S. Valentine, after 28 days of marriage, her husband walked out.

Japanese Admit Foe Killed Admiral

TOKYO, (AP)—The Japanese navy announced today that Rear Admiral Jintaro Kato, Captain Soji Oide and Commanders Tsunichi Morroka and Michio Kondo were killed near Anking, China, July 31 when a navy flying boat was hit by Chinese anti-aircraft fire and fell within Chinese positions.

Swordfish Rams Newport Boat; Five Bail Water During Dash To Shore

NEWPORT BEACH, (AP)—Three hours of frantic bailing after their boat was "stabbed" by a giant swordfish was all that kept a fishing party of three men and two women from drowning six miles off Newport Beach, it was revealed here today.

Charles Sinclair, reported to be chief attorney for the Richfield Oil company, hooked a 270-pound swordfish from the trolling boat, Georgia M., piloted by Capt. Jess

Pension Bill Tops Interest

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Proponents and opponents of the "$30 every Thursday" initiative measure to pension California's older jobless with scrip, drew battle lines today for a general election campaign.

Even before the deciding votes were counted in some races of Tuesday's hectic primary election, it became evident the pension proposal would be a prime talking point in campaigning for the November vote, when the plan will be on the ballot.

CASH FOR $11,000

If the pension plan, which would affect all jobless 50 years or more old, receives a simple majority, the state must start paying an estimated $11,000 persons $30 weekly in scrip.

Willis Allen, campaign director for the measure, announced plans in Los Angeles to put a manager in every one of the state's 68 counties for coordination of activities.

The San Francisco chamber of commerce prepared to distribute thousands of copies of arguments against the measure.

"The plan would create a financial crisis from which the state could not recover for years — if ever," the pamphlets asserted.

BANCROFT GAINS

Philip Bancroft, militant farmer, increased a lead over Ray L. Riley, veteran public official, for the Republican senatorial nomination in returns from 11,311 of the state's 12,438 precincts. The count was Bancroft 278,732; Riley 270,710; Louise Ward Watkins, 49,269.

The winner will run in November against Sheridan Downey, pension proponent who ousted Senator William C. McAdoo, President Roosevelt's choice, and a strong opponent of the pension plan. Returns from 11,660 precincts, gave Downey 472,718; McAdoo 339,692; Riley 85,948; John W. Preston 81,488; and James W. Miller 11,817.

HEIGHTS LEADS

For the strategically important progressive gubernatorial nomination 9250 precincts gave Raymond L. Haight, candidate four years ago 3990 and Culbert L. Olson 2764. If Olson, who is the Democratic nominee, could capture the Progressive nomination, it would assure him a two-way race in November between him and Governor Frank F. Merriam, Republican.

Dr. Walter Scott Franklin of Goleta, appeared to have gained Republican nomination for lieutenant governor with 152,707 votes in 11,054 precincts to 134,988 for State Senator Jerrold Seawell, his closest opponent in a field of eight.

PATTERSON NOMINATED

Ellis E. Patterson of King City apparently received the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor with 210,000 votes in 10,939 precincts to 140,134 for his closest contender, James Ralph III, son of the former governor, who was running third in his own Republican party and thus was out of the competition.

W. V. Vanden, Alameda county district attorney who won the Republican nomination for state attorney general by an overwhelming margin, also was ahead in a field of six for the Democratic nomination, capture of which would be tantamount to election. In 11,112 precincts, Warren received 262,008, and Carl S. Kegley, Los Angeles attorney, who was second, had 256,292.

France Fears Her Internal Strife Will Give Hitler Chance To Attack Czechs

Half Million Men Threaten Strike September 15

PARIS, (AP)—A strike of 14,000 textile workers in Amiens today added to the problems faced by the French cabinet, already perturbed over the international crisis and workers' opposition to lengthening the 40-hour week.

Protesting against proposed pay cuts ranging from 11 to 19 per cent, the Amiens employees refused to begin work and occupied several large factories.

At Lille, municipal street car employees refused to begin service. Residents were forced to walk to work.

CABINET MEETS

Labor troubles claimed the attention of the cabinet in a two and a half hour session, although most of the time was devoted to detailed reviews of the troubled international situation by Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet.

A short communique at the close of the meeting failed to show whether the ministers took any definite action to enforce the modifications of labor laws in industry already decreed.

The session, over which President Albert Lebrun presided, had been expected to deal mainly with the German-Czechoslovak crisis, but labor's opposition to an increase of labor hours in the interest of national defense and consideration of the strike threats imperatively.

CRISIS AIDS HITLER

The government, in fact, considers the two problems as one, for it fears the crisis at home might give Adolf Hitler a go-ahead signal to settle the Sudeten Germans' autonomy demands by force.

Premier Daladier has repeatedly reminded France in the last two weeks that Chancellor Hitler remilitarized the Rhineland March 7, 1936, and annexed Austria March 13, 1938, when France was weakened by internal struggles. Nearly 500,000 workers have served notice they would strike by Sept. 15 unless their demands for increased pay were met.

FUEHRERS AGREE

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, (AP)—Czechoslovakia's fate was considered today in an intimate meeting of the Fuehrers of greater Germany and the autonomy-seeking, Nazi-protected Sudeten Germans.

Adolf Hitler and Konrad Henlein were alone in the study of the German chancellor's mountain home as they conferred for the second successive day on how to deal with the attempt of the Czechoslovak government to placate Henlein and his followers.

An official announcement at the close of the meeting said: "The Fuehrer today received Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten Germans, at Obersalzberg. Henlein came upon the wish of Lord Runciman (unofficial British mediator in the Czechoslovak crisis) to give the Fuehrer a report on the present status of the negotiations with the Praha government."

"The Fuehrer took cognizance with interest of the explanation. There resulted a complete accord in their judgment of the situation. Konrad Henlein left the Berchtesgaden this afternoon after taking lunch with the Fuehrer."

Lindy Races Praha Autos

PRAHA, (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh entertained Praha with some unexpected airplane stunts today when he landed here from Olmütz, where foggy weather had held him overnight.

As he was taxiing after landing here with Mrs. Lindbergh, the American flier twice raced his plane across the field with four automobiles bearing Czechoslovak and foreign officials in pursuit.

Without lifting his plane, Lindbergh managed to evade about 500 Czechoslovaks who broke through a small police guard and chased the plane with bouquets and presents. One man was carrying a large, intricate wood carving.

Lindbergh saw the crowd coming toward him as he landed. He swerved around and went to one corner of the field. The automobiles were close behind.

Not fast enough to escape them, the colonel taxied to the other end of the field.

There, still wearing his flying helmet, he jumped into the auto, mobile of Maj. Lowell Riley, military attaché of the United States legation here.

Glendale Youth Mysteriously Shot

GLENDALE, (AP)—Warren J. Murphy, 17-year-old son of a wealthy market owner, was taken to a hospital today with a bullet wound in his abdomen.

He told authorities he was shot "in an argument" but refused to enlarge on the statement.

His mother, Mrs. Rudy Murphy, said her son staggered into the hospital today with the wound. She said she had not seen him since he left last night with a party of six other boys and two girls for the beach.

Aparicio Trial Set For Sept. 6 Here

Guadalupe Aparicio, Stanton laborer, will go to trial before a superior court jury Sept. 6 for the traffic death Aug. 8 of Mrs. Soledad Rodriguez.

Aparicio pleaded not guilty today before Superior Judge James L. Moore to two felony charges of negligent homicide and hit-and-run driving. Mrs. Rodriguez was fatally injured when the car Aparicio assertedly was driving crashed on Piacentia Yorba boulevard.

14 ARRESTED FOR FELONS' 'BAKING' DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Supt. William B. Mills, Deputy Warden Frank A. Craven, 10 guards and two physicians of the Philadelphia county prison were held without bail today for the grand jury after a coroner's jury found them criminally negligent in the "baking" deaths of four convicts.

All were taken into custody immediately in a crowded city hall courtroom at the conclusion of a three-day inquest.

The guards named were Capt. James McQuire, Alfred W. Brough, Francis Smith, Edward Corkery, Samuel James, Thomas Cavanaugh, John Mulherin, Sylvester Weaver, William Staines and Robert Morrow.

The physicians were Dr. Hans Abrahamson, resident at the prison, and Dr. George Enoch, who visited it.

After deliberating three hours, the specially selected jury of six named this group as responsible, directly or indirectly, for allowing 25 hunger striking convicts to suffer for 20 to 60 hours in a stuffy isolation building heated by a battery of large radiators in a corridor.

Liberals On Republican Ticket Get President's Approval

DOWNEY, OLSON ARE GIVEN HIS IMPLIED O. K.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt told reporters today he would have not the slightest objection to the election of a liberal running on the Republican ticket. He said the American people were beginning to think more in terms of principles than personalities.

Asked whether he knew of any Republican liberal who were running for office, the President told his press conference there were several.

He authorized this direct quotation: "If there is a good liberal running on the Republican ticket, I would not have the slightest objection to his election. The good of the country rises above party."

"It is an absolutely unjustified assumption which is being made by Detroit papers that a failure to go to dedicate the international bridge at Port Huron (Mich.) is in any way connected with the Michigan campaign."

"It is a deliberate distortion of the fact and the Detroit papers might as well get that."

Asked whether his words about Republican liberals might be interpreted as applying to the senatorial race in California, the President said he had been speaking in national terms.

The President, however, was said by friends to feel that both Sheridan Downey, the Democratic nominee from the senate in California, and Culbert Olson, the party's standard bearer in the gubernatorial race, are liberals in their general points of view.

The President was reported to feel that the "30 every Thursday" pension plan, which was an issue in the Democratic primaries, is a state matter. If a plan of this nature were adopted by the voters and legislators of the state, the President was said to believe California had the right to try it, provided it did not violate the federal constitution in respect to the issuance of currency.

The United States senate would be involved in no way with the plan, he was represented as feeling.

Clifford Bryce of England told him years ago that one advantage of the American system of government over European governments is that when some one comes along with a new plan which some people regard as crackpot, one or two states have the right to try it out, and if it works it can be applied nationally.

One of the best examples of this advantage, in the President's opinion, is the system of direct primaries, which originally was adopted in one or two states and then spread to others.

A reporter wanted to know whether, if a Democratic conservative were nominated and a Republican liberal opposed him, Mr. Roosevelt thought the Republican was conducting himself "in the public interest."

The President replied that he agreed with that view on the whole, but that it was a question of what was inside the Republican's heart.

The President was asked, too, whether he felt the word "purge" as applied to his advocacy of the nomination of New Dealers who are opposing conservatives, was a misnomer. The President said he regarded it as a headline word and an extremely immature word either for newspaper headlines or leads.

It was Thursday morning. I tried to get my thirty dollars. I didn't. Guess I passed the age limit. And what I could have done with thirty dollars!

And then there was the newspaper man who had to take a lot of "kidding" because the name of a man appearing in one of his articles was spelled incorrectly three different times, and it may not have been his fault. But the story did not appear in a Santa Ana newspaper, which gives the local scribes more enjoyment out of the "kidding."

Col. Lindbergh can make more forced landings without damage than any other aviator I know of. Fact is he's doing a lot of things more successfully than most people.

TRAIL'S END
The vicissitudes of the flesh imposed their penalty upon the life of a good man when Josiah S. Talcott answered the final summons.

After more than half a century of fraternal fellowship, the silver link was broken. It will be renewed in the dispensations of eternity. For more than a quarter of a century he measured up to the full stature of manhood, and built by friendliness and business integrity his own monument. Yesterday friends and fraternal brothers gave evidence of their esteem and respect. One of the best tributes came from a close friend who said: "Josiah Talcott is worthy of anyone's finest commendation." That's a fine legacy to leave mankind. It is worth more than silver and gold. It is the jewel of confidence and integrity which carries mankind over the chasms of doubt. Lives of good men are the companions of hope, long after he who established them has left the scene of earthly activity. It has been said that the place which know us once, will know us no more forever, but it will be a long, long time before the fellowship and lovable companionship of Josiah Talcott is forgotten.

NO JEWS IN ITALY SCHOOLS

ROME. (AP)—The government today excluded Jews from state-recognized schools, universities and "all academies, institutes and associations of science, arts and letters."

The decree, announced after a meeting of the Italian cabinet, imposed the first restrictions on the participation of Jews in the life of the nation since the expulsion, ordered yesterday, of foreign Jews coming to Italy since 1919.

Wire Tapping Used In Hines Trial

NEW YORK. (AP)—Transcribed records of wire-tapped evidence were read today in the policy racket conspiracy trial of Tammany District Leader James J. Hines as a purported conversation between J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, the "kid mouthpiece" of the Dutch Schultz policy mob and a man identified as "Jim."

Detective Julius Salke took the stand and read a wire-tapped conversation.

A man named "Joe" was quoted as calling Davis' wire-tapped telephone in 1933, saying, "The boss wants to talk to you."

Another voice came on the phone. "Hello, Dick," it said. "Can you let me have $500?"

Davis replied: "Yes, Jim."

Senator Ready to Give Downey Test

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—U. S. Senator Prentiss M. Brown (D., Mich.), chairman of the senate campaign committee, told the Grand Rapids Press today that his committee would be willing to consider any representations that Sheridan Downey, of California, Democratic senatorial nominee, does not support his party's principles.

"If representations are made to the committee that Mr. Downey is an outsider and does not uphold Democratic principles then the committee will consider the matter," Brown said in a telephone interview. "We want to know what the facts are."

COAST PATROL SAVES LIFE OF L. A. FIREMAN

T. B. Van Der Ahe, 28, member of the Los Angeles fire department rescue squad, owed his life today to Orange county's coast patrol and rescue crew.

Van Der Ahe was seriously cut yesterday afternoon near Bay Shore camp while righting an overturned motorboat. The ball of his right foot was slashed and two arteries were severed. Dana Lamb and his coast patrol assistants were called, arriving 10 minutes later. They applied a tourniquet to stop bleeding, and at 5:25 started in search of a doctor.

For half an hour they attempted to find a doctor in the Newport harbor area, after arriving at a Newport hospital and finding no physician in attendance. Finally they got in touch with Dr. Ralph Hoard, who tied the severed arteries and took eight stitches to close the wound.

They will be married tomorrow at the Firestone home here, Graham, 23, is a law student at the University of Virginia.

CITY-MANAGER CHARTER TO BE PRESENTED

A proposed charter under which Santa Ana's city government might be changed to a city manager setup has been drafted and will be presented to city councilmen for their reaction within the next few days.

Attorney John Harvey told the Santa Ana board today at the board's weekly luncheon in the Rosemore cafe.

The charter, only tentatively drafted, is patterned after several sample charters secured from other cities by Harvey and his committee of realtors who are working out details of the plan.

The realty board named William B. Croddy as its state director during yesterday's meeting, which took the form of a round-table discussion, when it was announced a discussion of the new re-zoning ordinance by City Engineer J. L. McBride was cancelled at the last minute. McBride told President Ray Goodcell he had been unavoidably called out of town.

The board voted to send a letter to the county supervisors thanking them for cutting the proposed county budget.

BROKEN JAW WORTH $527

A. H. Stevens, riding academy operator, today led judgment for $527.50 against Sol Gonzalez, cafe operator, for a broken jaw sustained in Gonzalez' establishment last Dec. 31.

Stevens had filed suit in Santa Ana justice court, claiming Marcus Raynos, an employee at the La Paloma cafe on East Fourth street, struck him and broke his jaw.

Justice Kenneth Morrison today decided in Stevens' favor, awarding him $527.50 damages.

L. A. COOK HELD

SLAYER DIES ON GALLOWES

SAN QUENTIN. (AP)—Francisco Aguirre, 30, was hanged at the prison here today for the slaying of Gabriel Contreras near Thermal, Cal., during an argument over Contreras' common law wife, Pella Gonzalez, on July 25, 1937.

Aguirre dropped through the trap at 10:01 a. m. and was pronounced dead 14 minutes later.

Testimony at the trial showed Contreras drove Aguirre away from the ranch. Aguirre returned at night, created a disturbance and shot Contreras when he came to the door.

CALHOUN FACES TRIAL OCT. 24 FOR MURDER

Testimony of several physicians weighing against him, Charley Calhoun, 28-year-old murder suspect, today waived a hearing on his present mental condition and will go on trial Oct. 24 before a jury in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court.

Calhoun, who assertedly has admitted the fatal shooting June 26 of Clyde Dillinger, 30, his stepfather and cousin of the late gangster John Dillinger, had contended he is insane at the present time. Physicians had reported, however, that he was sane, and that hysterical attacks which twice seized him in the county jail were not so serious as Calhoun said they were.

He was brought into court today and waived the sanity hearing. He will be tried Oct. 24 on the murder charge, and if he is found guilty he will have another trial on his plea of not guilty by reason of insanity.

Report on Labor Relations in England Submitted to F. D. R.

CO-OPERATIVE SPIRIT HELD SUCCESS KEY

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A special commission told President Roosevelt today that British industry and labor maintain industrial peace through mutual confidence and cooperation.

It said, however, that where collective bargaining agreements mutually satisfactory to national unions and national employers' association had existed for a long period, strikes had been few and strike violence rare.

Mr. Roosevelt, making the report public just before Labor day, commented:

"To me, the most salient feature of it is the cooperative spirit, coupled with restraint, which is shown by those who represent both employers and employees in Great Britain.

"Collective bargaining is an accepted fact and because of this the machinery which carries it out is functioning.

"Experiences of other countries, very naturally, have been different from our own but they should be considered and studied as we analyze our own problems. A second report . . . will give us a parallel study of industrial relations in Sweden."

There has been on indication that these studies might form a basis for possible revision of the Wagner Labor Relations act at the next session of congress. Mr. Roosevelt said recently that he and President William Green of the American Federation of Labor were agreed some clarifying changes should be made. But John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chairman, has expressed opposition to any revision.

When Mr. Roosevelt appointed the eight-member labor commission last spring, Lewis declined to permit a C. I. O. representative to serve. Robert Watts represented the A. F. of L.

Other commission members were: Gerard Swope, Charles R. Hook and Henry Harriman, representing business; Lloyd C. Garrison and Miss Marion Dickerman, on behalf of education; William E. Chalmers, assistant labor commissioner; William H. Davis, former deputy N.R.A. administrator, and Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, a regional director for the social security board, representing government.

Summarizing its conferences with workers, employers and government leaders in Great Britain, the commission said:

"Repeatedly employers' organizations stated to us that they preferred strong unions to weak ones because the strong union is better able to secure the fulfillment of agreements and is better able to bring competitors up to the wage and hour standards of the industry, as set by the agreements."

"Repeatedly, labor representatives stated to us that they preferred strong employer organizations to weak ones, because the stronger the organization, the fewer the units which remain outside to undermine industry standards."

"The acceptance and general practice of collective bargaining on an industry basis places upon the employers' and workers' organizations, because of the sheer number of men and the magnitude of the interests involved, a peculiarly heavy responsibility calculated by its very nature to call for patience, understanding, and a desire to make and keep agreements and to achieve industrial peace."

A.F.L. Head Urges American Employers Review Report On British Labor Situation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said today the report of the President's commission on British labor relations "ought to serve to make many American industrialists review their own labor policy."

In a statement issued at the close of the federation's executive council meeting, Green described the commission's survey of collective bargaining in England as "fine objective analysis."

"If American employers wish to duplicate the record of relative peace in industry there," he said, "they need only follow the inevitable conclusion drawn from the report and deal honestly and directly with the organized workers in the American Federation of Labor."

The A. F. of L. chief said "the machinery of the National Labor Relations act would have been 'unnecessary,' if American employers were as willing as British employers to recognize the rights of workers."

MRS. NORDIN DIES, AGED 89

Mrs. Kirsten Nordin, grandmother of Mrs. E. F. Brunin, died today at 1521 North Broadway, where she has made her home with Dr. and Mrs. Bruning for the past five years.

Mrs. Nordin, a native of Nykoping, Denmark, was 89 years of age and had been ill for several months.

She is survived by Mrs. Bruning and ten other grandchildren; three daughters, Mrs. Anna Kralberg of Santa Ana, Mrs. Mary E. Brodegaard of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Ingeborg Kyhl of Omaha, Neb.; and two sons, Ernest Nordin

'Kitty' Shot After Chase of 45 Minutes; Now Officer Has Cause to Think it a Shunk

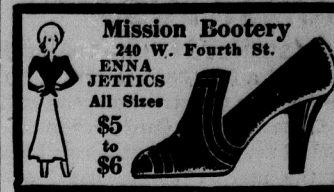

Maybe it was just a kitty, but it carried quite an odor. So Poundmaster Harold Pickering shot it dead.

The skunk was object of a furious 45-minute chase through the parking lot of the City Service station, Sixth and Bush street, last night.

of Omaha, and Carl Nordin of Owensboro, Ky. Funeral services will be held at Omaha, Neb., with Brown and Wagner in charge locally.

C. A. Patmore, station attendant, noticed the "kitty" at 8:45 p. m., thought it carried a stripe but wasn't sure. Frank Lewis, another attendant, helped him identify the animal, which by then wasn't hard to do, and they both called the police, who referred the call to Pickering.

The beast died at 9:30 o'clock but only after Pickering who thought it had been deodorized, made a rash attempt to capture it in a gunny sack.

NAVY AWARDS COAST JOBS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The navy awarded a $168,330 contract today to the Case Construction company, Inc., San Pedro, Calif., for extension of sewer and storm drain lines at the marine corps base and training station, San Diego naval operating base.

A $49,708 contract for steel work for extension of existing hangar No. 1 and for a new hangar No. 2 at the San Pedro fleet air base was awarded the Bethlehem Steel company, Bethlehem, Pa.

The Raymond Concrete Pipe company, New York, received a $32,250 contract for driving foundation piles for barracks building and for additional to storehouse at the San Diego naval base.

Margot Grahame of Stage Goes to Reno 'for the Cure'

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Margot Grahame, blonde British actress, is ready to tell her marital troubles to a Reno judge.

Her divorce suit, friends said, is expected to be filed today, charging Francis Lister, English actor, with mental cruelty during their five-year wedded life.

The couple was married in New York in 1933 when Lister was appearing in a Broadway production. One night Miss Grahame arrived from England on the Berengaria. Next morning both sailed on their honeymoon.

Sheriff Orders His Supporters' Arrest

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP)—To Sheriff Tom Cannon the law is the law.

Cannon, unopposed for re-election, found the courthouse plastered with "vote for Cannon" signs.

That's against the law. So he immediately posted a $25 reward for the arrest of what apparently is one of his most enthusiastic supporters.

What's What 'Bout Traffic

By CAPT. H. C. MEEHAN (Captain, Orange County Unit, California Highway Patrol)

I found the following article in The California Highway Patrolman, August issue and I feel that it is worthy of a repeat in your paper.

"A Safety Message from the Keeper of the Morgue."

"Somebody is going to get killed this week-end. That seems to be a sort of law. Last week there was one. The week before there was one. This week . . . Well why should it be any different?"

"Anyone who drives out on the highway and gets a little careless is liable to be brought in here to me. You—the one who is reading this right now—are just as likely to be that one, or one of several, as anyone else."

"That's why I think I've got a little message that ought to interest you. This business of holiday and week-end deaths isn't just a lot of newspaper headlines on the day after for me. It's cold reality, for I'm the morgue keeper. They've been bringing them to me on week-ends for years, and I'm ready, as usual."

"We don't have cold marble slabs any more. We have cold steel tables—slabs if you want to call them that. They're hard and cold, too—May as well be, because the people we put on them do not notice it. These tables of mine are cleared and clean now; I looked at them today and there was an expectant look about them. Before forty-eight hours are over someone who right now is thinking about going out to have a swell time celebrating will be brought in here in an ambulance or a hearse; I'll lay the body out on its back on the table and pull the cover over it. Even if it isn't all in one piece—and often it isn't—I'll put it all on the same table."

"Usually these bodies are broken and battered. They're hard to handle in moving around the place because they don't hold together like a live body. Whatever shape they're in they have to be embalmed, and I've plenty of embalming fluid on hand—gallons of it. I'm prepared."

"When they bring them in I usually ask the ambulance driver how it happened and nearly always it's about the same story—'Tried to pass going up a hill or around a curve.' 'Tried to cut in and out of traffic.' 'Trying to get somewhere too fast on a crooked road.' 'Liquor.'"

"That last is an answer all by itself because it can cause just about anything. It's the most common answer, too. Liquor has had a part in nearly all the highway deaths in my county this year. Now I won't feel a bit sorry for you if you're brought in here for me to work on—unless you are just a child or were hit by some reckless, crazy or drunken driver; otherwise you were either partly or wholly to blame. Even if you weren't driving you could have made sure you drove with somebody who knew how to be careful."

"So that's my message. Just remember I'll take care of you if you get splattered all over the highway. I'll pick up the pieces and get them ready for the grave."

"Somebody estimates that a certain number of people will be killed right here at home. But it won't be me; I've got to stand by down at the morgue. I'll probably be busy."

10 High Speed Fliers Due To Leave L. A. Air Terminal For Cleveland Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES.—Ten high speed fliers, nine men and one woman, are scheduled to buzz away from union Air terminal early tomorrow in the annual Bendix trophy dash to the national air races, held again this year at Cleveland, O.

There will be extra prizes for pilots flying from Cleveland to Bendix, N. J. The woman in the $30,000 event will be Jacqueline Cochran (Mrs. Floyd Odlum), noted aviatrix. She is to fly the Seversky pursuit plane in which the builder, Maj. Alexander De Seversky, established a new East-West transcontinental record for 10 hours, 8 minutes, 7 seconds, last Monday.

Also in the race, flying a similar Seversky, will be wealthy Frank Fuller of San Francisco, winner of last year's Bendix race with a new Los Angeles-Cleveland record of 7 hours, 54 minutes and 26 seconds. Fuller continued on to Bendix, N. J., and set a new race record of 9 hours, 35 minutes for the transcontinental flight.

If the weather is suitable, the racers are to start taking off shortly after midnight tonight. The race finish is to be the feature event of Saturday's opening of the Cleveland meet.

Longest Probation

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Pleading guilty to a burglary charge, Jesus Dominguez Samnarron, native of Mexico, was given probation for 15 years—the longest period ever imposed in a Sacramento superior court.

utes and 26 seconds. Fuller continued on to Bendix, N. J., and set a new race record of 9 hours, 35 minutes for the transcontinental flight.

If the weather is suitable, the racers are to start taking off shortly after midnight tonight. The race finish is to be the feature event of Saturday's opening of the Cleveland meet.

FINES FOR DAY TOTAL $172

City Judge J. G. Mitchell collected $172 in fines from traffic offenders ranging from an overtime parker to a drunk driver yesterday.

P. O. Bigelow, Santa Ana, paid a $150 fine on a drunk driving count; Oather J. Sewell, Laguna Beach, and Carl G. Aldean, Anaheim, each paid an $8 speeding fine; Lowell P. Lester, Santa Ana, paid $5 for missing a boulevard stop, and C. A. Bales, Santa Ana, was fined $1 for overtime parking.

Dog Faithful to Street Sweeper

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP)—The city fathers have honored "Brownie," a little brown dog which for years has followed the city street sweeper. City Manager Henry Traxler made formal presentation of a medal, gold plated and engraved, as Al Schwenker drove the sweeper up to the city pumping station.

The western range of the United States supports a four-billion-dollar livestock industry.

RETAIL BUYING STILL GAINING

NEW YORK. (AP)—Retail buying at leading centers of distribution this week averaged 3 to 6 per cent above last week, but lagged 2 to 7 per cent under last year for the country as a whole, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

"With crop money and larger industrial payrolls beginning to filter into retail channels, trade volume moved upward in many key centers," the credit agency said. Wholesale buying, despite increased spot orders, was "slightly lower" this week than last, and ran 10 to 16 per cent under the like week of 1937.

Cultivate Weeds to Exterminate Them

CANNINGTON, England. (AP)—Every weed known to farmers is being cultivated and carefully tended on a plot of land at Cannington Demonstration farm.

They are intended for a weed museum where research experiments are in progress to study their habits and to find the best way to exterminate them.

Increased spot orders, was "slightly lower" this week than last, and ran 10 to 16 per cent under the like week of 1937.

SELF DEFENSE, UNION'S PLEA

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Counsel for nine AFL union teamsters, accused of labor terrorism, launched an attempt today to show they were frequently forced to defend themselves against violent attacks.

From S. W. Seeliger, key prosecution witness, defense attorneys wrung an admission that he had once beaten Dewey Copeland, one of the men on trial.

Seeliger, former teamster union organizer, but now a CIO longshoreman, said he floored Copeland three times during a warehouse row, but he declared that at the time Copeland had three other slugs behind him.

S. F. Will Vote on Purchase of Street Railway System

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—San Francisco's board of supervisors today turned over the $24,480,000 Market street railway purchase plan to the city's voters for a decision at a special election Sept. 27.

'BIG RED CARS' RUN IN THE RED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Southern California's "big red car" transportation system is continuing to operate at a loss.

The Pacific Electric railway reported today a net loss of $249,287.36 for July as compared with a net loss of $223,149.10 for July, 1937.

Operating 886.84 miles of track, the railway carried 5,174,415 passengers in July against 5,990,690 in July, 1937, the railway officials reported.

Theft of Potato Chips Results in Man Landing Job

COLUMBIA, Pa. (AP)—Charles Krewson, 20, and jobless, came into a magistrate's court to face a charge of stealing a bag of potato chips.

Robert Martin, potato chip factory manager, preferred the charge but when he learned Krewson was unemployed, he withdrew it, paid the costs, then offered the defendant a job.

Krewson accepted.

L. A. TUNNEL DIGGERS FREE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Exonerated by the grand jury of all suspicion that they had plotted foul play against Detective Lieutenant William J. Clark, two private detectives and Police Officer John Adams were at liberty today.

Adams and Investigators Edward Devlin and Harry Allen admitted digging a tunnel from the Adams' home toward Clark's adjoining house for the purpose of installing a wired listening device.

Film Directors Must Keep Morals at High Standard Under Their New Contracts

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—The famous "morals clause" of all movie players' contracts now is being put into directors' agreements with studios.

The explanation, from a studio executive today, was: "Directors are personalities, too."

The clause reads:

"The director agrees to conduct himself with due regard to public conventions and morals, and agrees that he will not commit any act or things that will tend to degrade him in society or bring him into public hatred, contempt, scorn or ridicule or that will tend to shock, insult or offend the community or ridicule public morals or decency, or prejudice the producer or the motion picture industry in general."

Fertilizer should be placed below and to the side of planted seed to yield maximum nutrition.

99 DEAD AFTER NIPPON STORM

TOKYO. (AP)—The toll of a 75-mile-an-hour typhoon in eastern and central Japan Thursday mounted to 99 known dead, 77 injured and 68 missing today.

Police said 1560 houses were demolished, 500 damaged, 140,000 flooded and 71 ships were washed away. There was widespread damage to roads and bridges.

Reports were incomplete from the western area. Property damage was estimated at 5,000,000 yen ($1,400,000) in Yokohama alone.

G. G. Woman Hurt In Traffic Mishap

Ramona Guzman, wife of a Garden Grove laborer, and her small baby were slightly injured when Guzman's car assertedly struck a parked auto at 821 North Artesia street Monday night, Guzman reported to police yesterday.

The car struck an auto registered to Hilda M. Smith, 611 West Fifth street.

Divorce Festival Is 25 Years Late

SAN DIEGO. (AP)—Charged with being drunk, a 56-year-old man told Judge Clarence F. Terry he was celebrating his divorce.

"When were you divorced?" asked the judge.

"Twenty-five years ago," the man replied.

He was fined $10.

S. D. TAX RATE DOWN
SAN DIEGO. (AP)—San Diego county's basic tax rate today stood at $1.80 1/2, lowest in several years. Last year's was $1.98.

The FRIDAY AFTERNOON

By DONALD BUTTON

I like September.

For its mellowing days, its returning leaves, harvest scenes and particularly the Pomona fair, I like September.

Being rather quietly forgotten is the exhibition of U. S. painting Millard Sheets gathered for the opening of the Modra Memorial, and yet I can see its influence upon contemporary painting, hereabouts quite often.

This year focal point of the Gallery program at the fair is a sculpture competition for a piece to go at the entrance of the Gallery. Sculptors from many states, and in number, are submitting, to the point that a significant sculpture will grace the door of this unique exhibition place.

There are always some who will question the policy of presenting a picture of contemporary painting, crafts and sculpture at a "County Fair."

To them I would point out that, so long as the fair serves to display this year's accomplishments in the growing of vegetables and fruits, progress in education, and fine stock, so should it also serve to present the accomplishments of the Arts.

Whatever Millard Sheets programs for this building, it will be well worth the going to the fair, if for the exhibition alone!

IMPURE!

Out of two conversations this past week with Kem Weber, whose designs for a house in Kansas City formed an exhibition at the library recently, I have gotten much food for thought.

Says Weber "I have studied my profession (architecture) for some twenty years. I know the classic styles, the historical. I have derived something from them, but I have gone on to something that is my own."

"When I bring a drawing to you, it is not for you to tell me what to do with it, anymore than it is for me to instruct you in, say, painting, when you have had a similar experience along that line."

"You may say that you like it, or not, but it is not up to you to tell me how to be an architect."

"When I make a chair, the lines of the drawing are there for a rather definite, utilitarian purpose. You as a painter have used that line for the sheer joy of painting. That which is subjected to function, and use, is an "impure" art. That is why I am an "impure" artist!"

You may say that you like it or not, but it is not for you to tell me how to be an architect—that is what I, about which the commentator, am concerned.

Granting that popular approval is not the generating problem of lasting and enduring art, does not that popular approval still control the production, at least to a certain extent, of any medium?

Just what is the influence of lay approval?

HERE AND THERE

Paul Sample is home from Europe with a portfolio of "Tourist" sketches. . . said he wasn't going to do any painting, but has some 50 papers. . . Dan and Dotty Lutz will sojourn in Colorado Springs (they have been in Chicago at the Institute) before returning to the former's teaching at U. S. C. . . Frederic Johnston reports the launching of the Fine Arts group at Riverside. . . Donald Forbes, after an earlier inactivity, reports satisfactory summer painting progress, and preparation for an important New York one-man show. . . Marion Cunningham was moved to do a number of abstractions after reading the Duns "The Psychologist Looks at Art" . . . Phil Dyke is having more and more of a hand in the Disney cinema productions. . . the Fine Arts show at the San Francisco fair is already shaping up well.

Mrs. Munro and 2 Charming Daughters Hostess Tea

Receiving at a smart tea yesterday afternoon, the Misses Margaret and Jean Munro and their charming mother, Mrs. George Munro, welcomed half a hundred debutante and collegienne friends to their lovely new home at 1914 North Flower street. Mrs. C. P. Boyer and Mr. and Mrs. James Harding had sent large bouquets of brilliant dahlias which were placed around the spacious rooms.

Mrs. Munro received in a pink net over a flowered taffeta slip, and Miss Margaret Munro was in a white Chinese silk formal, while Miss Jean Munro chose a brightly flowered taffeta gown. Assisting the hostesses throughout the afternoon were Miss Mary Lou McFarland, in black taffeta; Miss Louise Sexton in a stitched blue taffeta; Miss Florence Liggett in a poudre blue chiffon, and Miss Patty Rapp in a navy pique. All wore corsages of gardenias.

It was at this lovely affair that the attractive sisters were able to greet many of their friends before they scatter this fall for various schools, and also to show their guests around their home.

Appointments at the tea table, where Miss Sexton and Miss McFarland poured, were marked with much charm. Centering the table was a low silver bowl of pink pompon dahlias, and tall tapers were at each end of this. Other details of the service were carried out in the same motif.

Miss Margaret Munro will enter her senior year this fall at Stanford university, while Miss Jean Munro will begin her junior year at the same school. They will leave for Palo Alto in several weeks, to return for the rushing season.

Pantry Party Given For Frances Was

A wealth of jams, jellies, canned goods, and pantry accessories found its way into the possession of Miss Frances Was last night when the popular bride-elect was honored at a shower given by her aunt, Mrs. H. J. Heaney. Miss Was will wed Jack Lindsey, son of the Arthur Lindseys, on September twenty-fourth.

Informality reigned during the evening with question games, recipe contests, and rhyming contests, with it so devised that in each diversion, Miss Was was prize-winner.

About the Heaney home on Cypress street were lovely bouquets of zinnias and asters, all from the garden of Mrs. Ira Kroese.

Participating in the affair, climaxed by a late refreshment course, were Mrs. Lewis Was, grandmother of the honoree, and Miss Jennie Kroese, her great-aunt, both of whom assisted Mrs. Heaney; Mrs. John Campbell of Orange, Miss Eugenia Gilbert; two aunts from Sierra Madre, Mrs. Perry Hall and Mrs. Milton Bowler; Mrs. Dudley Shaw of Pasadena, Mrs. Marshall Harnois, Mrs. Fred Crowell, Mrs. H. G. Huffman, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. John McAuley, Mrs. George Munro, Miss Isobel Little, Mrs. Emmett Elliott, Miss Margaret Prescott and Mrs. E. E. Campbell, who are aunts of the groom; Mrs. Arthur Lindsey, his mother, and Mrs. Ira Kroese.

The least any individual can spend a year for an adequate minimum diet is $130, according to a department of agriculture survey.

PHI OMEGAS HONOR TWO MEMBERS

Members of Phi Omega sorority met with Miss Hazel Oliphant, 117 South Birch street, one night this week, with a short business session preceding two lovely surprises, one for a bride-elect, and the other honoring a member who will leave the group for some time.

Miss Oliphant had used many summer blossoms to decorate the rooms and individual tables, where a delightful dessert course was served to the guests. She had also planned several games, at which Miss Annie Tucker and Miss Jean Upshul were awarded prizes for high scores.

It was then that Mrs. Byron Nott, the former Ann Wakeham, was the incentive for a handkerchief shower, for she leaves today for the Hawaiian islands, where she will join her husband. The couple will make their home there for the next two or three years.

Miss Upshul, who will become the bride of Laurence Roberts, this Saturday, was presented with a gift from her sorority sisters at the same time.

Enjoying the pleasant evening with Miss Oliphant, and the two honor guests, were the Mesdames Ronald Vincent and Charles White, jr., and the Misses Myrna Brooks, Ruth McBurney, Annie Tucker, and Phyllis Heke.

Fall Chapeau

Fall hats are already edging into the fashion parade. This one is really a black velvet skull cap trimmed with an exaggerated bow-end of the same material careening down its side. Design by Harry Solomons.

FIFTY-FIFTY MEMBERS HAVE CARD PARTY

Planning to launch their winter season with a dinner dance Oct. 1st, at a city hotel to be determined upon later, members of Fifty-Fifty dancing club enjoyed their monthly informal session this week, with men gathering at the Riley Huber home for a business session, and with their wives and special guests meeting at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Burns.

Mrs. Burns served a dainty dessert course and then arranged tables for bridge, later awarding high score prizes to Mrs. Everett Lutz and Mrs. Ewald Lempeke.

Present were Mrs. Robert Redington, Mrs. Ray Hiniker, and Mrs. Earl Crockett of Los Angeles; Mrs. Ewald Lempeke of Anaheim; Miss Mildred Lewis and Miss Midge Norman of Long Beach; Mrs. Ralph Culp and Mrs. Bus McCoy of Fullerton, Mrs. Bill Grafton of Whittier, Mrs. Heber Fowler, Mrs. Lawrence Mitchell, Mrs. Verlin Anderson, Mrs. Stanley Norton, Mrs. J. Wayne Harrison, and Mrs. Edward Farnsworth jr., with her St. Louis houseguest, Miss Sally Carson.

SANTA ANA COUNCIL
Santa Ana council, P-T. A., will meet Tuesday in the board of education room at 9:30 a. m. All presidents are urged to be present to plan the year's activity.

Campus Talk Enjoyed At Party

Welcoming many of their friends for a delightful evening, were Miss Betty Timmons and Miss Gloria Kirchner, when they entertained at a dessert bridge last night in the Howard Timmons home in Tustin.

The hostess duo had arranged tables for twelve guests in the spacious play room, and had centered these with bright begonias. After the dessert course, contract was played, with Miss Patricia Jordan and Miss Audrey Sattler winning prizes for first and second scores.

Since so many of the guests are returning this fall to various colleges, bridge play was interspersed with plans for the fall by the Misses Jean and Patricia Jordan, Audrey Sattler, Jeanette Klatt, Virginia Curry, Charlotte Mock, Florence Liggett, Roberta Horton, Caro and Eleanor Cogan, and Mrs. Fred Pinkston.

About Folks

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Stevens and their three children, Carl, Vern, and Louella, of 1354 Grand avenue, have returned to their home after spending two weeks in Elsinore, Minn. While Mrs. Stevens visited her relatives, Mr. Stevens and the children enjoyed numerous fishing excursions to the surrounding lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnim and Bob Arnim have returned to their Santa Ana home after spending a month at El Bayo, Balboa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Peniwell of Panorama Heights are entertaining Mrs. Peniwell's mother, Mrs. Jennie Stout of Winfield, Kansas, for an indefinite visit.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, 1717 Lime street, will leave for New York

CALUMPIT PAST PRESIDENTS HAVE MEETING

Past presidents of Calumpit auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, had a pleasant social session yesterday at the home of Mrs. Estelle Dresser, 1523 French street.

At a table of pinocle Mrs. Elizabeth Erickson and Mrs. Celia Cook were check-winners, while at the checkers Mrs. Elizabeth Moberly and Mrs. Katherine Reagan won awards.

Since it was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Bertha Dixon, a lovely cake in her honor dominated the refreshment hour and at that time she received many pretty gifts.

Mrs. Jean Tantlinger will be hostess to the group Sept. 28. Present yesterday were the Mesdames Eleanor Shaw, Elizabeth Erickson, Bertha Helmer, Celia Cook, Bertha Dixon, Elva Hunt, Elizabeth Moberly, Nannie Reed, and Katherine Reagan, with the hostess.

FALL PLANS ARE MADE BY GROUP

With a busy fall program scheduled for the coming year, Delta Chi Sigma sorority met last Monday evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Dietler, 1616 French street.

Plans were discussed for the rushing season, which the group will begin early this fall. Dates were announced for the annual state convocation, which will be held Oct. 1 and 2, in the Knickerbocker hotel, Hollywood. Seven chapters from California and Oregon will attend the meeting.

The next social meeting of the group will be a steak fry, to be held in the Orange city park Sept. 12.

Members present were the Mesdames Dorothy Dietler, Alice Martin, Frances Roberts, Dorothy Baker, Nadene Johnson, Vivian White, Lorine Shippe, Helen Manderscheid, Henrietta Rupp, and the Mesdames George Carter, Lloyd Manderscheid, Miss Margaret Westover, of Orange, Miss Eileen McCollum, and Miss Florence Aitken, of Fullerton.

MISS WARNER IS VISITING HERE

Friends of Miss Ruth Warner were delighted and surprised to see her again yesterday when she returned to Santa Ana for a brief visit, at the Warner home, 1116 South Rose street.

Miss Warner, a former student in the Santa Ana Junior college and a popular member of Spinners, has been making her home in Helena, Mont., for the past seven months. She is finishing her senior year at the University of California this fall, where she is affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi sorority, and since that college has a recess until Tuesday, the former Santa Ana decided to make a flying trip here for the holidays.

TWO RETURN FROM 10,000 MILE TRIP

Mrs. Sarah Douglas and her daughter, Miss Effie, who left June 28th on a motor trip, have returned to their home at 626 North Broadway after a full and interesting journey through the United States.

With John Soden, a student, driving their car they went first to Yosemite valley and thence to Lake Tahoe. They made stops in Arroyo, Neb. and Kansas City, where they visited relatives.

Their next stop was La Grange, Ill., where they spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore (Ruth Douglas). While there another daughter and niece, Mrs. George Douglas and Miss Hazel Douglas, joined the Santa Anas for the rest of their trip east.

They drove to Fifty Falls, Ind., a scenic spot, and on to Huntington, West Va., and to Niagara Falls, where they stayed overnight and then continued to Detroit and Chicago and New York.

In Milwaukee they stopped at Mrs. George Douglas' home, and spent some time at her summer home on Lake Meash. They also visited Mrs. Vin Moss, Mrs. Douglas' sister, who spent six months here recently and has many Santa Ana friends. Stops in the Black Hills, Yellowstone, and Boulder dam highlighted the final lap of their 10,000-mile trip.

It is not a settled fact that President Monroe was the actual author of the Monroe doctrine.

SMITHS, FLINTS HOME THIS WEEK FROM TRIPS

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith and the latter's sister, Miss Preble Drake, returned this week from their annual sojourn at their summer home at Lake Huron, Ontario, Canada.

They have been gone for slightly more than two months, and expect their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Flint, home from a summer in the Orient this week-end.

The Smiths' home is at the corner of Nineteenth street and Heliotrope drive, while their daughter's home is just a block north on Heliotrope.

LAMBDA CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. LYKKE

Mrs. Carl Lykke, 1408 Martha Lane street, opened her pretty home yesterday to the Lambda Sewing club, serving members a dessert course at a lace-spread table on which she used turquoise and yellow china and yellow and white linens.

Miss Shirley Edgar was a special guest, as was the Lykkes' little daughter, Nancy Diane. Members present were Mrs. J. Carroll Ault, Mrs. Edward Gaebe, Mrs. Armand Faccou, Mrs. George Dawes of Anaheim, and Mrs. Warren Lampman of Anaheim, with Mrs. Lykke.

Effort to Create Popularity May Lead College Lad in Poor Ways

"A college called me in as consulting psychologist to solve these problems: Drinking, carousing, over-speeding, over-spending, and petting."

"I found that these weren't problems. These were symptoms. The students were doing these things in a desperate effort to be popular."

That is Dr. Regina Westcott-Weiman of Chicago speaking, a red-haired woman whose work is helping people untangle their lives.

Mothers and fathers whose sons and daughters will be of college age in a few years might get an idea from thinking about what Dr. Westcott-Weiman has to say. Because there is still time for them to keep their children from developing all the symptoms of a young person trying desperately to be popular.

If drinking too much, driving too fast, and petting without restraint are simply means by which a college student seeks to get attention and approval from people of his own age, an intelligent parent ought to see that his son or daughter has some other way of attracting their admiration.

It won't do to see that Mary is a nice girl or Bill a fine boy—and nothing more. Old people are attracted by those qualities in the young—but by themselves they count for little with other young people.

On top of being "nice," parents ought to see that Mary or Bill is an excellent dancer (excels at the big apple or the rumba), that they can play popular music on the piano (college students do a lot of singing), or are all set for taking part in college theatricals. They ought to shine at one thing which counts with young people.

If Bill can make the football team, talk on his feet well enough to get himself elected president of his class, or write well enough to make himself a big shot on the college paper, he won't have to out-drink every member of his fraternity in order to win their respect.

It's too late to do anything about the boy or girl who goes away to school this fall—but it isn't too late to prod into action the son or daughter who won't leave home for two or three years.

SANTA ANANS PLEDGE GREEK LETTER HOUSES

With school in session for almost three weeks already, news begins to trickle into Santa Ana about activities of collegiennes enrolled at the University of California.

Miss Nancy White, daughter of the E. D. Whites of 2115 North Broadway, began her junior year at the northern college, where she is a pledge member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Miss White was a student at Scripps college for two years before transferring north, and a popular member of Girl's Ebel.

Another Santa Ana coed to pledge this fall, is Miss Margaret Maroney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Maroney, 1912 Greenleaf street. Miss Maroney, who was prominent in Santa Ana High school activities, was invited to membership in the Chi Omega sorority at the University of California where she is just beginning her freshman year.

Adding pleasure to the evening were two vocal presentations by the auxiliary quartet, and the awarding of the door prize, a handsome blanket won by Mrs. Fred Halber.

DOTS AND DASHES, ONE OR TWO SPORT FLASHES

When Huntington Beach players its third game with San Bernardino here tonight, it may mark the final time Joe Rodgers, colorful manager of the Oilers, will appear in uniform at the Municipal bowl. . . . It's gone beyond the rumor stage that Joe is resigning as manager of the Oilers, transferring his entire team into the Long Beach City league next year. . . . Irvine and Brea also are talking about withdrawing. . . . Yes, sir! The old National Nightball league is due for a flock of changes before the '39 season. . . . Catcher Bomo Koral is my nomination to succeed Ray (Doc) Smith, who resigned this week as manager of Santa Ana's Stars.

President Bill Hay has postponed tonight's meeting of the Downtown Quarterbacks to Tuesday night because of too many conflicts. . . . He desires a large turnout of charter members next week to outline plans for the '38 football season. . . . In case you've forgotten, the Downtown Quarterbacks is a pep club organized to support the Dons. . . . A $2 membership entitles the member to purchase a 50-cent reserved seat in a section between the 30 or 35-yard lines.

Los Angeles Coliseum plans to construct the nation's largest and most modern football scoreboard. . . . It will be much higher than the one now in use and will be electrically operated so that a complete tally of scores can be flashed to the spectators.

Tom Engelman, the Saint track star, plans to go into aviation. . . . He's a wizard at designing model airplanes. . . . Tommy Wilkins, No. 1 hurler of the '38 Saints who has won a baseball scholarship to U. S. C., will study to be either a teacher or coach.

Lyle Morse, diminutive right-hander, easily was the standout hurler of the City league season just closed. . . . He had six wins against one defeat. . . . Teammate against one defeat. . . . Teammate against one defeat. . . . Teammate against one defeat.

Congratulations to the Orange Lionettes for winning the second-half title of the Major Girls' Softball league! The team has enjoyed the largest attendance record of any club in the county this year.

Well, it looks as if our Floyd (Arky) Vaughan, Pittsburgh's great shortstop who once pastimed for Fullerton High school, will get into his first World's Series this fall.

Helen Jacobs Seeded First In U. S. Net Championships; Budge Seeks 'Grand Slam'

NEW YORK. (AP)—A number of things had become evident today about the national tennis situation, but the three outstanding developments were that:

A. Of the four top favorites for the U. S. men's singles title in the championships starting next Thursday at Forest Hills, Bobby Riggs drew the hardest quarter and Adrian Quist the softest, while the tasks set Don Budge and John Bromwich are about even.

B. Competition for the women's title, with 16 of the 64 players seeded, should, with the exception of Helen Wills Moody's absence, be as keen and colorful as that at Wimbledon.

C. The U. S. men's first 10 for 1938 will include several young stalwarts who weren't even in the 1937 picture.

With Davis cup stars from Australia, England, France, Yugoslavia and Japan in the field against the best the U. S. has to offer, no player is going to have an easy time reaching the semi-final round.

But Quist, Australia's handsome 25-year-old veteran, should get by the first three rounds without musing his neatly-parted hair; should meet Betsy Grant in the fourth, Sidney Wood in the quarter-finals and then face Budge, who needs to add a second U. S. championship to his three other titles for a one-year "grand slam."

Riggs, on the other hand, is in for tough matches from the moment he gets by the first round. In form holds true he should face, in order, Frank Guernsey, the intercollegiate champion; Ronald Shaves, English Davis cup "comer"; Fumiteru Nakano, Japanese copper, and Ferenc Fencsik, able star of the Yugoslavian cup forces and third-seeded foreigner.

Budge and Bromwich, at the top and the bottom of the draw, respectively, also will have enough on their hands to keep their games from getting rusty. After first-round byes and easy second-round matches, Budge should go up against Jack Kramer, promising inter-scholastic champion; Charles Hare, English giant who took him to 28 games in the first set of their 1937 challenge round match, and Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., or Bernard Destreumeau of France while Bromwich probably will tackle Ernest Sutter or Frank Shields, Frankie Parker and Joe Hunt.

There are no soft spots in the women's field. Helen Jacobs was ranked first in quest of her fifth U. S. title with Jadwiga (Ja-Ja) Jedzejowska of Poland the foreign No. 1. Barring upsets, it should be Berkeley Helen against France's Mme. Rene Mathieu and Ja-Ja against Alice Marble, 1936 champion, in the semi-finals.

That Wood, Cooke and Frank Kovacs were seeded fourth, fifth and sixth and that Parker and Grant were placed in the last two positions is indication enough the first 10 is in for sharp revision. Wood was unranked a year ago for lack of sufficient evidence; Cooke was at the bottom of the list, at No. 28, and Kovacs was No. 2 in the junior division, while Parker and Grant were third and fourth, behind Budge and Riggs.

Others who, by making a good showing at Forest Hills, can put in their bids for first-10 places given in 1937 to Wayne Sabin, Hal Surface, Gene Mako, Don McNeill and Johnny Van Ryn are Guernsey, Gardner Mulloy, Archie Henderson and Gil Hunt.

Oilers Face Ponies Here Tonight

THIRD GAME OF PLAYOFF IN S. A. BOWL

Huntington Beach and San Bernardino, finalists in the Shaughnessy playoffs for the National Nightball league championship, square off in the third game of their four out of seven game series in the Municipal bowl tonight. Game-time is 8:15 o'clock. Admission, 25 cents for all-comers.

Manager Joe Rodgers of the Oilers scheduled Huntington Beach's "home" game here as an accommodation to San Bernardino's travelling team, and in the hopes of attracting a larger "gate."

The first two games were played on neutral Colton field, and resulted in 4-3 and 3-2 victories for the Oilers, who have taken a commanding lead in the playoff. If Huntington Beach wins tonight, the Oilers can clinch the title at Colton next Wednesday night. They have scheduled exhibitions with the Shell Oil team at Long Beach Recreation park for Saturday and Monday nights.

It will be Elwynn (Fuzzy) Errington's turn on the mound for the Oilers tonight, with Venn Bette in reserve. Bob (Lefty) Fowler of San Bernardino has been favoring an injured ankle, and may not be in uniform. The probable starter for the Ponies will be Bud Mayer, sensational rookie who struck out 20 Oilers in the second game.

If Manager Joe Rodgers, who has been recovered from eye and leg injuries suffered when a San Bernardino fan hit him with a softball, is unable to perform at shortstop for Huntington Beach, his place will be taken by George Murray, regular leftfielder.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Jimmy Foxx, Red Sox—His homer with mate aboard beat Brown, 5-3.
Bob Klinger, Pirates—Blanked Giants, 6-3.
George Coffman, Tigers—Held Yanks to eight hits and drove three runs across with base-clearing double in 6-3 win.

Bob Feller, Indians—Fanned eight and allowed seven hits in 1-4 win over Athletics.
Stu Martin, Cardinals—His single in ninth drove in winning run to down Phillies, 6-5.

50th Anniversary Of Golf In U. S. Celebrated Today

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—"Old timers of golf teed off here today in a two-day celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the game's introduction into the United States.

Golf associations of the country chose entrants for the number of years they had played. Gold trophies will be given for low gross and low net scores.

Edward E. Grubb of St. Louis shot the best record in practice. He had a 78, six over par, on the French Lick links course.

Some 30 golfers were on the grounds last night. Navy had practice scores in the 80's.

San Diego Legion Nine Beaten, 9-6

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—The Spartanburg American Legion junior baseball team was one up today on the San Diego, Calif., nine in their five-game series for the national championship.

A five-run spurge in the ninth inning enabled the Spartans to beat the Californians, 9 to 6 yesterday. The first game, played Wednesday, ended in an 8-8 deadlock after 15 innings and was called because of darkness. The clubs will meet in the third game today.

BEARS SCORE 26-14 OVER COLLEGIANS

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The Chicago Bears, off to a fast start, slammed a 26 to 14 defeat on the college all-stars last night in the season's fifth ball curtain raiser for the Shrine charity fund.

Twenty thousand fans saw the Bears pile up their entire score in the first half, paced by Ray Naiting and Bert Johnson. The all-stars, baffled during the early stages of the game, opened the final period with a rush and put over two touchdowns, with Byron (Whizzer) White stealing the show.

White, former Colorado all-American, put the all-stars in the score column with a 14-yard run and a four-yard cutback for the first touchdown. A weak punt by the Bears, which gave the all-stars the ball on the visitors' nine-yard line, enabled the collegians, with a pass from Anderson to Berinski, to roll up the second touchdown.

SPORTS Roundup

—By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK. (AP)—Patty Berg, freckle-faced threat from the West, is a red-hot favorite to walk off with Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page's women's golf title at Chicago this month. . . . You'll likely see more strange faces on the Boston Red Sox next season than on any other major league team. . . . Tom Yawkey, they are gossiping, can't understand why, with 200 minor league farm-hands, the Sox had to put Roger Cramer (a fly-chaser) in to pitch the other day. . . . Marquette's football squad—43 huskies—will be the smallest in years. . . . Big mystery here right now is whether Burleigh Grimes or Babe Ruth will manage the Dodgers next summer.

If you take the word of Patsy Clark, coach of the Brooklyn football Dodgers, the best football talent grows out where the grass is highest. . . . The way Hank Greenberg is pounding out doubles and triples these days shows he isn't aiming for the fence every time he goes up there. . . . By the way, the betting locally is that Hank (who now has 46) will not beat Babe Ruth's homer record of 60 this year. . . . Doc Painter, trainer of the Yanks, has developed a new pair of sun glasses which he'll market next year. . . . Indignant Pitt fans are wiring in to say that Goldberg is in swell shape and will do as much ball-toting as ever this fall. . . . Well, mebbe.

Jack Miley rips the New York boxing commission to pieces in the current "Ken" . . . It is now pretty well established around the Yankee stadium that Tommy Henrich will be Lou Gehrig's successor when the "Iron Horse" decides to step down. . . . A kidney ailment kept Andy Berahak, the ex-North Carolina star and one of the best ends in the country, out of the all-star tussle with the Washington Redskins. . . . And along comes Howard Brickley, sports editor of the Wichita Falls (Tex.) Times, to call Oscar Vitt's Indians the "Vanishing Americans."

ORANGE GIRLS LOSE SEARS WITH INJURY

Ruth Lee Sears, slugging southpaw first baseman, who has been one of the most colorful players in the Major Girls' Softball league, was indefinitely lost with a broken finger on her throwing hand today to Orange's Lionettes, as the local club prepared to meet Bank of America at Fairfax field, Hollywood, tonight.

The Lionettes, who probably will be one of the top seeded clubs in The Examiner's softball tournament next Monday, have only a slim chance of using Lee if they gain the final round. Lee injured her finger in the fifth inning of a warm-up practice against Young's Market when Margaret Mast, cut loose with a high throw from third, the ball striking Lee's finger. She finished the game, however.

Louise Hunt will be substituted for Lee at first, Bobby Wakeham taking over right field.

YORBA LINDA WINS, 2 TO 1

Tony Morelli, Murdock In Team Victory

Superiority of Tony (Killer) Morelli and Paul Murdock in team wrestling over Dude Chick and Yukon Jake was unquestioned today, following their second straight victory in the wrestling feature at the Orange County Athletic last night.

The Morelli-Murdock team captured the last two falls of the match, highlighted by comedy during which Yukon Jake removed Referee Mickey McMasters' shoe and beat his rivals over the head. Bobby Wagner pinned Speedy LaRance in straight falls, with a body press in 24:51 and with body slams in 10:56. Monte LaDue won a decision over Ala Pash in 15:3, but many fans thought the Arabian deserved the verdict.

Giants' Pennant Chances Dwindle

The National league pennant race—if there's going to be one from here in—is now squarely up to Will McKechnie and his streaky Reds. With Pittsburgh's parading Pirates riding along on a seven-game lead at this writing, and what is left of the once-proud Giants resting in fourth place, Cincinnati's alternately hot-and-cold outfit either can make a fight of it, or just let it die a natural death.

For, with the season down to its last 30-or-so games, the Reds tangle with the Pirates nine times before they ring down the curtain Oct. 2. No other club meets the blazin' Reds more than five times the rest of the way, and 15 of the 32 tilts left on the Pittsburgh calendar are against second-division outfits.

The Pittsburghers, after a sloppy showing all through August, had just about everything yesterday as they opened the final month with a 6-0 whitewashing of the Bucs. The Giants nose-off the hospital list, tossed a seven-inning, and "Lil' Poison" Lloyd Waner led a 12-hit attack with a triple and three singles.

This defeat for the Giants, coupled with the Cubs' tight 4-2 decision over the Boston Bees behind Clay Bryant's classy elbowing, mixed up the first division standings like boarding house hash. The Cubs and the Reds, who were idle, climbed into a second-place tie, seven games back of the Bucs. The Giants nose-dived to fourth, half a game farther back. The Cardinals took the Phillies, 6-5.

The American league, as you may have heard, has no such fuss for the flag. The Yankees, although dropping their second straight to the Detroit Tigers, 6-3, are in about as much danger as the fellow who has the army and navy for a bodyguard. They boast a 13-game lead, and they've been holding it with a patch-work lineup, minus three key men who are sidelined with "miscellaneous" injuries.

Boston's second-place Red Sox nipped Buck Newsum and the St. Louis Browns, 5-3. The third-place Cleveland Indians walloped the Athletics 11-4. And Jimmy Dykes' Chicago White Sox swept their series with the Senators on an 11-6 finale win.

AMERICANS MAKE DEMAND

SHANGHAI, (AP)—The American chamber of commerce American community committee, comprising all organized American interests in Shanghai and including ten missionary organizations, cabled Secretary of State Hull today a series of demands they would have made upon Japanese.

These included recommendations that the state department request return of American property in areas presently occupied by Japanese, with indemnification; that asserted censorship of the mails be discontinued, and that rights of travel and commerce of railways and inland waterways, including the Yangtze, be restored.

Russians Appoint Eskimo Governor Of Wrangel Isle

MOSCOW, (AP)—The Comsomol Pravda, organ of the Soviet Russian young Communist league, announced today that an Eskimo named Taiman—mighty hunter, able bookkeeper and mechanic—had been named governor of Wrangel island in the Arctic.

Taiman killed 29 female bears with cubs in a single season and reorganized fox hunting on Wrangel island so that 416 blue foxes were trapped in one winter.

DR. T. R. BOGGS DIES
FREDRICKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Dr. Thomas Richmond Boggs, former president of the Association of American Physicians, died here today. He had been on the staff of Johns Hopkins hospital.

SEVERE FIGHT ALONG YELLOW

SHANGHAI, (AP)—Severe fighting raged along the Yangtze and Yellow rivers today with both Chinese and Japanese claiming important victories.

Chinese military commanders said their forces inflicted 4000 casualties as the Japanese tried to advance toward the Yangtze river about 100 miles southeast of Hankow, the provisional capital.

The Chinese also reported they recaptured Ashan, keypoint for a Japanese offensive toward Taiman on the Nanchang-Kiukiang railway.

Brother Launches Attack on Will Of Warner Oland

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Carl Oland of Hartford, Conn., today sought to have the will of his late brother, Warner Oland, film star, set aside.

The actor, who was best known for his portrayal of the role of "Charlie Chan" on the screen, was "not of sound mind and memory" when he made the will May 11, 1937, the brother alleged.

The actor's estranged wife, Mrs. Edith Shearn Oland, was named chief beneficiary in the will. Carl Oland was bequeathed $1000.

SPANISH WAR 'FREEZES UP'

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier). (AP)—Government troops took advantage of a lull in fighting on the Ebro river front in eastern Spain today to extend the fortifications system which enabled them to resist two weeks of insurgent offensive.

Suddenly freezing weather overnight changed the sweltering summer into winter as the militiamen swapped their rifles for picks and shovels.

FRESHMEN DAYS OPEN TUESDAY ON JUNIOR COLLEGE CAMPUS$5 FEE COVERS COSTS AT J. C. REGISTRATION

Students planning to enter Santa Ana Junior college with the opening of school activities next Tuesday morning were urged today by Director D. K. Hammond to secure a copy of the new class schedule in order that they might plan their courses of study.

"The new schedule containing all of the classes to be offered during the first semester is now available and may be obtained by calling at the office in College hall, Tenth and Main streets," he said.

In commenting on the opening of the college year, Mr. Hammond stressed the fact that the only fee the students will be required to pay when they register is the $5 entrance fee required of all those who enroll for class work. This covers all college costs, including laboratory and gymnasium fees and the regular student ticket entitling the holder to participate in all school activities, he said.

Students should not purchase any books until the start of class work when the various instructors will announce the necessary texts, Mr. Hammond stated. Some second-hand books will be available through the second-hand bookstore operated each year by the Y. W. C. A., he said.

Freshman day activities open on the local campus Tuesday and will continue throughout next Wednesday and Thursday.

Harvard Law Graduate, War Veteran, Successful Farmer, New Deal Foe Is Bancroft

An outspoken New Deal critic, Philip Bancroft, apparent winner of the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, is a son of the late Hubert Howe Bancroft, noted historian.

Although a graduate of Harvard law school, Mr. Bancroft has been a farmer for the last 20 years at Walnut Creek, 30 miles east of San Francisco.

A militant leader in agricultural organizations, Mr. Bancroft practiced what he preached about labor in successfully operating his own farm. He is a former president of the Contra Costa County Associated Farmers, vice president of the Associated Farmers of California and chairman of the California Dried Fruit Stabilization committee.

Mr. Bancroft was born in San Francisco in 1881. He was one of the organizers of the American Legion in California. He entered the first officers' training camp on May 12, 1917, and served overseas until after the armistice, retiring as a first lieutenant.

He never before was a candidate for public office. In 1912 he was elected a member of the Progressive national convention and became a member of the Progressives.

Mr. Bancroft entered the race for senator on a platform which demands the banning of sitdown strikes and radical changes in the national labor relations act.

He announced he was a candidate because he believed that "there ought to be one candidate standing squarely on such issues as" those two and "regulation of unions, agricultural labor, law enforcement, relief, old age pensions, protective tariff, reciprocal trade agreements, silver, gagging free speech, hamstringing the G-men, the social security tax."

"Unionization of farm labor," Mr. Bancroft declared, "under present conditions and leadership would be disastrous to the workers and absolutely ruinous to the farmers."

Mr. Bancroft demanded drastic alteration in the present relief set-up. Five years' residence, he said, should be required before a person would be entitled to state or county relief. He believes WPA workers should be prohibited from competing with work "ordinarily done by private contractors."

He blamed responsibility for sit-down strikes on the attitude of Secretary of Labor Perkins and the "pussy-footing of the entire administration" at Washington. He advocated 15 years' residence eligibility for old-age pensions.

LIVELY RACES SCHEDULED IN 3 TOWNSHIPS

Neck-and-neck races for justices' and constables' positions in three Orange county townships today forecast heated local campaigns before the contests will be settled in the Nov. 8 general election.

Justice Cal D. Lester of Orange will be opposed by David Fairbairn in November. Lester, polled 2199 votes and Fairbairn 1938, leaving Elmer Deupree eliminated. Deupree was topped in his own precinct by Lester.

Justice Charles Kuehl of Anaheim, who polled 3260 votes Tuesday, will be opposed in November by Eldon W. Stark, who had 2591. Alva E. Hargrove, with 1541 votes, was left out.

Justice D. T. Hayden of Tustin was elected over Harold R. Long, 1056 to 375. Justices elected without opposition included Howard C. Cameron of Santa Ana, 8179; Chris P. Pann of Huntington Beach, 2173; Fred J. Smith of Seal Beach, 592; A. C. Earley of Fullerton, 1439; D. J. Dodge of Newport, 1809; C. C. Cravath of Laguna, 1426, and John Landell of San Juan, 813.

Two constables' positions will be settled in the November election. Constable Ed Marion of Anaheim, who polled 2719 votes, will meet Eliminated from the contest were Sam Snodgrass, with 1562, and Joe B. Mitchell, with 1491.

In Seal Beach, Constable W. H. Pearson was eliminated in the primaries. Drent and Emery, only one vote apart in Tuesday's primary, had 229 and 223 votes, respectively. Pearson had 175, E. W. Reed 153 and J. W. Cook 27.

In constables' races four men were elected against opponents. Constable Charles Mitchell of Santa Ana defeated R. E. Steinberger, deputy sheriff, 8377 to 2875.

Constable W. D. Tremaine of Brea bested J. T. Bradford, 1485 to 398. Constable William Ponting of Newport, with 1677 votes, won over F. A. Williams with 917 and R. E. Sherman with 368. E. T. Cresce, constable of Laguna township, won over Cecil Baggs, 968 to 636.

Constables elected without opposition were B. H. Dulaney of Huntington Beach, 2227 votes; W. H. Skillman of Fullerton, 3998; George M. Bartley of Orange, 4142; John L. Stanton of Tustin, 1265, and Carl Stroschein of San Juan, 795.

COUNTY HIRES SOIL CHEMIST

Charles Babcock, Riverside soil chemist, today had been retained by the Orange County Flood Control district to safeguard this county's interests in land title litigation which will result from efforts to get property for the Prado dam basin.

Babcock will be called on to analyze farmland soil which is needed for the dam basin, and will testify in court proceedings as to probable value of the land. He will be paid $35 a day for field work, $50 a day in court and $6 a day for special consultations.

New Oil Company Will Incorporate

Articles of incorporation for a new oil company were on file today with County Clerk B. J. Smith.

Known as the D. H. B. Oil company, the firm was authorized to issue $200,000 worth of stock. Its principal offices are to be in Los Angeles.

Directors named in the articles of incorporation are B. C. Mackey and H. H. Henshaw of Laguna Beach, O. T. Deal of Los Angeles and A. G. Burt and O. H. Wopshall of Pasadena.

Avocado Standards Closely Watched

Avocado maturity standards will be closely watched from now until December as a protection for both consumer and the industry, the Calavo Growers warned today after three men were apprehended with 250 pounds of immature avocados by officers near San Clemente.

John Stewart of Los Angeles was fined $100 by Judge A. B. Harris of Oceanside and E. L. Casey and Albert McSwain, companions of Stewart, were given 30-day jail terms on vagrancy charges.

BOOKED FOR VAGRANCY

Arthur Mueller, 49, Los Angeles electrician, was booked in the county jail yesterday afternoon by Huntington Beach police, who arrested him on a vagrancy charge. He will serve seven and one-half days.

VOTERS NAME COUNTY PARTY COMMITTEES

Twenty-two Republicans and 22 Democrats today had been elected to guide their parties' destinies in the county, as final tabulations were completed on contests for party central committees.

In the first district—Santa Ana—Harold M. Long and Claudia Worswick were defeated for election to the Democratic group, and J. Malcolm Green was left out of the race for the Republican central committee.

In the second district candidates in both parties numbered the same as the positions to be filled, and all were elected.

Third district Democrats and Republicans saw Leo J. Fris and G. Ted Masterson eliminated from the Republican group and Rudolph F. Grund, Lloyd S. Verry and Rosalie Williams left out of the Democratic race.

Mrs. Audrey Peterson was the lone victim in fourth district races, being eliminated by Democrats.

Nine candidates ran for positions on the fifth district subsection of the Democratic committee, with all but four being eliminated. Raymond C. Bell, William S. Caldwell, Leonard R. Miller and Claude A. Pullen were the victims.

Elected to committees for the Republican party were:

First district—John D. Ball, Lloyd H. Banks, Arthur C. Eklund, Ben A. Lieberman, Arthur A. May and Stanley M. Reinhaus.

Second district—Richard Haster, Ray Overacker and Joshua O. Pyle.

Third district—John B. Horner, Ralph W. Irwin, John Kellenberger, jr., A. W. McBride, Lyman D. Sherwood, Raymond Thompson and Ernest R. Walker.

Fourth district—Roy N. Edwards, Clyde F. Newton and Gordon X. Richmond.

Fifth district—Leslie F. Kimball, M. B. Wellington and Elmer B. Whitson.

Democratic central committee members are:

First district—Curtis S. Burrow, Wendell W. Finley, Mae E. Geeting, Horace C. Head and B. Z. McKinney.

Second district—William H. Bentley, Roy S. Head, Daniel W. Huston and Sterling Price.

Third district—Robbie Anderson, Mary E. Coons, Robert C. Ewing, John J. Holland, Timothy F. Shea, Harry Julius Starr and Verne Wilkinson.

Fourth district—Earl G. Smith and Martell E. Thompson.

Fifth district—Clyde M. Baxter, Aaron Buchheim, Henry W. Hall and G. E. Thompson.

All Democrats in Orange County Urged to Unite and Support Party's Nominees

Horace C. Head, president of the Orange County Assembly of Democrats, and E. Z. McKinney, the party's county chairman, today united in issuing a statement asking for party harmony in the fall campaign.

Their statement follows: "The Democratic primaries are over. The nominees of the party have been selected. Party differences in primary fights should be forgotten and we hereby urge all Democrats to unite in supporting the party nominees in order to present a united front in the November election. Those nominees are as follows:

"Sheridan Downey for United States senator.
"Culbert L. Olson for governor.
"Ellis E. Patterson, lieutenant governor.
"Harry R. Sheppard, congressman 19th district.
"Clyde A. Watson, assemblyman 74th district.
"Burr Brown, assemblyman 75th district.
"United we stand; divided we fall. Let's go forward together for victory."

EVEN DEPUTIES FACE PUZZLE IN THIS CASE

Sheriff's deputies were slightly tangled up today in a mass of circumstances surrounding an old coaster which formerly belonged to a county jail prisoner. Here's what they learned:

Herman A. Luhrs, 509 Wellington avenue, reported his car was missing from an abandoned used car lot at Mission and Van Ness streets. Luhrs had been in jail for drunk driving, and had assigned the car to C. F. Johnson, he said.

Johnson says he did not get the car. Luhrs had taken it to the car lot to be sold. Meanwhile he had an accident, in which his car and Johnson's were involved. He gave an order to Johnson for possession of the car.

Meanwhile the car had been sold to two youths, who had demanded their money back later because they were minors. So the car went back to the dealer. Johnson went to get it and couldn't start it, so he bought another car. Luhrs' auto stayed there. But when Luhrs got out the car was gone.

Laborer Returned On Support Charge

Accused of failing to comply with the terms of a court order for support of a minor child, Antonio Oviedo, 38-year-old laborer, was returned here from Hartford yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs R. E. Steinberger and Robert Conkey. Oviedo was arrested in Kings county on a bench warrant issued by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel.

Mulherron Submits $501.70 Campaign Expense Statement

Dan Mulherron, mayor of San Clemente, may have been fourth man in fifth district supervisory primaries, but he was first candidate in the county today to submit a statement of his campaign expenses, required by law.

Mulherron reported to County Clerk B. J. Smith that he spent $501.70 on his campaign, all of it his own personal funds.

He itemized expenses as $10 for a filing fee, $58.75 for traveling expenses, $5 for rent of a hall at Costa Mesa, $282.95 for advertising, $20 for canvasses of voters and $125 postage and telephone.

County Supervisors Require 50 Hours To Canvass Returns

County supervisors today moved slowly along on their most burdensome job of the year—canvassing election returns from Tuesday's primary. A long task was in prospect.

Members of the board began counting votes yesterday. At the end of the first two hours, they had covered 10 precincts. At that rate, they figured, it would take 50 hours to complete the task—and they hoped they would speed things up a little.

BURGLARY CHARGED

Ralph Riheva, 31-year-old transient, was booked in the county jail yesterday afternoon on a burglary charge from Anaheim.

GRADUATES OF HIGH SCHOOLS TO ATTEND BY THE HUNDREDS

Final arrangements had been completed today for Santa Ana Junior college's Freshmen days, which begin Tuesday morning on the North Main street campus. Hundreds of Orange county high school graduates are expected to attend.

Student committees met with John H. McCoy, assistant director, to map out complete details last night. All students who intend entering the college for the fall term were urged to attend the three-day event, as it is aimed to orientate them with jaysee life, Director D. K. Hammond announced.

The English placement examination, physical examination and aptitude test are all scheduled to be taken by prospective students during Freshmen days. The English test will be given the first day, Tuesday, at 1 p. m., while the aptitude examination will be held Wednesday at the same hour.

Bill Twist, president of the Associated Students, is in charge of the student program. An elaborate series of assemblies has been outlined which includes talks by faculty administrators and student leaders.

A complimentary lunch will be given, followed by a dance in the Ebell clubhouse, Thursday afternoon, as a climax to the three-day event. Phyllis Kogler, social commissioner, is in charge.

Assemblies will be held in the Congregational church, Seventh and Main streets. McCoy will preside and introduce the various members on the program.

Registration of all students for the Freshmen days program is necessary, faculty advisers emphasized. It will entitle them to the luncheon, as well as to a copy of El Don, jaysee weekly newspaper, which will issue a special Freshman days issue, under the editorship of Ed Velarde.

UNION PICKETS MEAT UNITS IN TWO MARKETS

Three union members whose lagging dues assertedly have taken them out of good standing in the Orange county meatcutters' local were the cause of "peaceful picketing" in front of Patterson's markets at Fairview and Main and at Washington and Main streets today.

The picketing, which affected only the meat concession in each of the two market centers, started this morning as a protest against what Steve Davidson, union business agent, said was a violation of contract by W. A. Patterson, market proprietor.

Patterson indicated his employees—one at the South Main street shop, the other two at the North Main street market—had let their dues lag as a preliminary move to resigning from the union. Davidson, however, said Patterson's contract called for employment of butchers in good standing with the union.

Both Patterson and Davidson made it plain that grocery and vegetable concessions in the two markets were not affected by the picketing, and Davidson said organized labor men were not being asked to boycott any department except the meat markets in the two market centers.

The picketing was started today, Davidson said, after two months of negotiations with Patterson and with his employees had reached a deadlock. No other markets in Santa Ana are being picketed.

Hollywood Paper Ordered to Permit Vote of Printers

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The national labor relations board ordered the Citizen News company, publisher of the Hollywood, (Cal.) Citizen-News, today to disestablish Printing Trades Union, Inc., as representative of any of its employees.

The board found the union was dominated by the company. It directed an election be conducted within 45 days among all composing room employees, exclusively of those who have quit or been discharged for cause since March 7, 1937, to determine whether they desired to be represented by Los Angeles Typographical union, local No. 174, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

Cleveland's Last Sister Now Is 95

NEW YORK, (AP)—The last surviving sister of President Grover Cleveland (Mrs. Susan Cleveland) Yeomans, today celebrated her 95th birthday anniversary, with all her five children present to help out the cake.

Secret Service!

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Mayor Frank L. Shaw has affixed his signature to an ordinance setting aside $20,000 to be used as a secret service fund by the police department. The city council voted the appropriation with the provision it be allowed to check books and records to see how the money was being spent.

Julie Hamilton, small-town Southern girl, regrets her half-hearted engagement to Kenneth Terry. When Barry Caldwell, young Arizona rancher who has met with reverses and is hiking to New York for a radio audition, appears at her door and faints from hunger, she falls in love with him at first sight. She puts him up in the garage and, over the protests of her friend Edith, asks him to her birthday party, pretending that she wants to get even with Kenneth for the attention he has been paying to Isolde Fleming, visitor from New York. At the party, however, when Barry tells her he loves her, she confesses her love for him. When Kenneth, in a jealous rage, strikes the Westerner, she breaks her engagement, and orders Kenneth out of the house. Meanwhile, Barry has fainted again. When he revives, he wants to go after Kenneth and fight it out, but Julie's cousin, Normandy Buford, persuades him to come home with him.

CHAPTER XII

WHEN Normandy and Barry were gone, Julie realized that the strain of all that had happened had left her limp as a wet dishrag. She turned down a boy who asked her to dance and went off by herself. Exhausted, she sank down on a window seat and stared out into the darkness.

It was queer that love had come so suddenly, so certainly. Only yesterday—though engaged to Kenneth—she had never known what real love was. Now—today—scarcely more than twenty-four hours after a strange young man had dramatically fainted across her threshold, she was desperately sickening in love with that stranger.

It was incredible. Like a dream. But it was true. It had actually happened! Her heart was full to bursting with love for Barry Caldwell.

And full, too, at this moment, with anxiety on his account. She recalled the implacable grimness that had been in his face when he had implied that he intended to settle his score with Kenneth before the night was over. The look that had been in his eyes haunted her. Would Normy be able to restrain him?

She could understand his wish to vindicate himself, but the trouble was that he was really a sick man, weakened by privation. If he were foolhardy enough to seek Kenneth out tonight and try to avenge himself, Kenneth might do him serious injury.

She shook off these thoughts and looked about the room. She saw some of her guests glancing at her curiously as they danced past. She mustered a smile to her lips. She mustn't let them see that she was upset.

But oh, why didn't they all go home! Hadn't they sense enough to realize that she wanted them to leave?

Then, at last, they did begin to realize it. She sighed with relief as she saw signs that the party was breaking up. She rose to fulfill her duties as hostess.

They crowded about her with effusive thanks for her hospitality, and with gay chatter about everything under the sun except the one subject that was uppermost in all their minds—the dramatic events that had occurred during the evening. They said nothing to Julie, but she knew that this party would provide them with juicy talk for many weeks to come.

ONLY Edith lingered. When all the others had gone, the two girls sank down together on aavenport. For a while, both were silent.

Finally, Edith stole a glance at Julie, who was staring into space. "Things kind of went haywire didn't they, honey?" she said very gently. "But don't let it bother you. It will all come out in the wash," she paused. "You're not worried, are you, about your bust-up with Ken? He'll—he'll come back."

Julie turned and gave her a blank look. "Come back? I don't want him to come back! My bust-up with him suited me right down to the ground!"

Edith patted her hand. "Honey, don't talk like that. Naturally, you are angry with him for behaving as he did. But you must admit you gave him good cause for flying off the handle. That was your intention, you know—to make him jealous. You shouldn't complain just because your scheme worked a little too well."

"Edith," Julie said slowly, shaking her head, "you don't understand at all. It's not Ken I'm worried about. It's—it's Barry." She paused. "Edith, I love Barry Caldwell."

Edith stared at her. "But darling!" she gasped. "That's too utterly absurd! Why, you scarcely know him!"

"I know that I love him." "But—but I thought you were just putting on an act! I thought the whole thing—asking him to the party and all—was for Ken's benefit. To get back at him and Isolde. That's what you told me!" "I was lying to you," Julie confessed.

"Then, you actually meant all that flirting you were doing with Barry all evening? You meant it when you kissed him there at the piano?"

"Yes," Julie said dreamily. "And Edith... he loves me, too... he told me so out in the garden. He's—he's going away, but he says he's coming back for me. He wants me to wait for him. That's why I broke my engagement to Ken—not just because I was angry with him I know now that our engagement was a mistake from the beginning."

EDITH was speechless for a moment.

Then, she said, with a trace of sarcasm, "Well, if everything is so hot-so-hot, why are you worried?" "Because I'm afraid things are not ended between Barry and Ken."

"Don't be a goose!" Edith said. "Ken isn't that vindictive! He won't do anything more."

"It's not Ken!" Julie told her. "It's that Barry may do that frightens me. Ken publicly humiliated him—and Barry's proud!" Edith shrugged and laughed. "He had a chance to do something when Ken struck him the first time. He took it without a comeback, didn't he? What makes you think he'll get up enough courage to?"

"Oh, you idiot!" Julie cut in, her anger blazing. "Don't you dare call Barry a coward! It was because he was a gentleman that he didn't fight back here at my party. He—he had too much respect and consideration for me to engage in a brawl in my house! He was perfectly right and I admire him for it!"

"Well," said Edith, "if you're so proud of him, I should think you would want him to prove he isn't a coward."

"Oh, it isn't that!" Julie said miserably. "I—I do want him to prove it—if he would wait until later. But I'm afraid he wants to settle things right away—tonight! And Edith, can't you see that—that he's in no condition to fight? Ken didn't knock him down this evening. He—he fainted—just like he did yesterday. That's why I'm worried. I'm afraid he—"

A shrill peal of the doorbell cut her words off. She leaped up, her heart in her throat. Who was it? What was it? Had Barry

She ran to the door and flung it open—saw Normy's Negro house servant standing on the porch.

"Miss Julie," he said, "Mr. Buford he say for me to come get you—if you can come. He say to tell you that young man he brought home is rarin' to go out and make trouble. He can't do nothin' with him, and he wants you should come and see if you can stop him." A chill shot through Julie.

Registration at Lathrop High school will be held 9:30 a. m. Thursday, Sept. 8, for students who are newcomers to Santa Ana. Lathrop houses the first three years of secondary pupils—those grades corresponding to the seventh, eighth and ninth—who will be living south of First street.

By attending to this early registration on Thursday, those pupils can be assigned to regular classes

Lemon Pickers End Strike, Take Cut

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Lemon pickers in San Fernando valley, their two weeks' strike at an end, returned to work today under a modified wage scale. They walked out when they were paid 20 cents a box for the first 10 boxes and 12 cents a box above that figure.

Under the new scale, the workers will receive 20 cents an hour plus 10 cents per box.

on Monday following without loss of time.

MUCH COTTON PLOWED UNDER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Hundreds of acres of cotton, much of it white with open bolls, ready for picking, are being plowed under by southern farmers eager to qualify for farm bill benefits and to escape its penalties.

Any accurate estimate of the number of acres being destroyed probably would run high into the thousands.

BRIDGES SEES DOCK TIEUP

SAN PEDRO, (AP)—Federal arbitrator Wayne Morse was confronted with a prediction by Harry Bridges, Pacific coast district president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, of a coastwide tie-up of longshore operations unless one of two proposals by the union for settlement of a dispute over liftboard operations is accepted. 14 WARSHIPS ORGANIZED IN ATLANTIC UNIT

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The navy is designating 14 warships as an Atlantic squadron, giving the east coast its first organized sea force in nearly seven years.

The new squadron becomes effective Sept. 6 under command of Rear Admiral Forde A. Todd. It will consist of seven cruisers and seven destroyers.

The navy announced last night this would be a temporary arrangement to prepare for general maneuvers next year, and to visit "such ports as are designated." No ports were named.

The general maneuvers will bring the main fleet of about 150 warcraft from the Pacific to the Atlantic for war games involving defense of the Panama canal.

It left the way open for speculation whether a revision of defense strategy was in prospect and whether European tension influenced the decision.

The squadron will be composed of the cruisers Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Savannah, Nashville, Boise, Honolulu, and Phoenix, all of 10,000 tons; the destroyers Mugford, Somers and Sampson, of 1850 tons, and the Ralph Talbot, Helm, Shaw and Warrington, of 1500 tons.

Another defense step announced was a decision to have a committee of high government officials draft a plan for lacing together with power lines the nation's key munitions and manufacturing centers.

Louis Johnson, acting secretary of war and chairman of the committee, said 15 strategic cities now were unable to tap other power sources should their own fail or be put out of commission in war time. He did not list the cities.

Police News

Mrs. W. J. Neville, 234 East Nineteenth street, Costa Mesa, complained to police yesterday that someone had struck the car she parked on South Main street between First and Walnut streets Wednesday night. Damage was limited to two dented fenders, she reported.

A purse containing $7.50 in cash, two letters, and other articles was rifled, then discarded, when a burglar entered Miss Edith Canfield's home, 1104 North Sycamore street, Wednesday night. Miss Canfield told police the burglar apparently gained entry through a rear window. Nothing else was disturbed.

John C. Swafford, 716 Minter street, was rushed by police to Dr. E. A. Bauer's office at 502 South Main street yesterday after he had fainted at Fourth and Main streets.

Fidel Hernandez, 25, Santa Ana laborer, was arrested at First and Garfield streets early today on a drunk driving charge.

There are about 10 times as many radios in farm homes in the United States as there were in 1925, a survey by the bureau of census indicates.

VIRGINIA—Time to talk turkey. The first crop of Thanksgiving gobblers goes to market in record round-up of holiday fowl.

NEW ORLEANS—Search for black gold brings man's ingenuity to the fore—"swampmobile" is transportation means in marshes.

DOUGLAS COBBREY, still a hero to America's millions, receives a tremendous ovation in Memphis on his trip through nation.

HELEN WILLS MOODY explodes bombshell in tennis world when she announces she won't compete in the national championships.

WILLIAM S. KNUDSEN, General Motors president, comes to World's Fair in 1939 car to drive first rivet in display building.

FASHIONS—Here's bad news for the youngsters, for school time is close at hand—but at least they'll be dressed in the smartest styles.

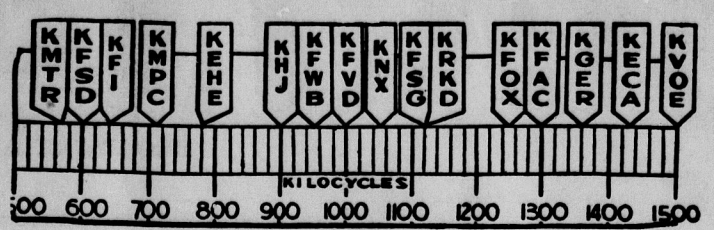

INDUSTRIY—American industry scores a coup. Despite German-Chilean trade agreement U. S. record locomotive shipment to South America.

NEWSREEL—Our track tout, Lew (Speed-to-Burn) Lehr, holds a race that's in the bag. When high-speed girls race in autos, Lew doesn't care who wins—he can't lose.

CALIFORNIA—Eighty-two brown boy and girl swim stars fight it out in the rough, choppy waters of mile and a half La Jolla race.

TEXAS—Boys will be slugging! Young students of art of face-punching trade walls for glory, and for de la Dallas.

2 MILLIONS AWAIT HEIRS

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—State Controller Harry B. Riley reported the fund created through estates reverting to California for lack of heirs now totals $2,400,000.

When the fund was established in 1954 it contained $39. Since then estates ranging in size of from 1 cent to modest fortunes brought it up to the present total. Riley said the smallest single estate to come to the controller's office originated in Butte county and had an actual value of 1 cent. He said it includes many worthless stocks which originally had involved the investment of a considerable sum.

The fund now lists over 14,000 estates, Riley declared.

$3000 Set Aside For Hearings of Oil, Lands Charges

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—State emergency funds will be used by the state personnel board to finance hearings for two oil lands employees accused of seeking leases on state owned oil lands, Gov. Frank F. Merriam disclosed today.

The governor said he had granted the board $800 and promised more money if needed. The accused men are Carl B. Sturzenacker, state oil lands division chief and A. H. Alexander, lands division petroleum engineer. Both have denied the charges.

Alhambra Man In Front Rank In Iowa State Fair Contest

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—An Alhambra, Calif., man's wizardry with horseshoes had placed him in front rank today at the Midwest horseshoe pitching contests of the Iowa State Fair.

Ted Allan, winner of many tournaments, broke six world's records and finished the meet with a perfect record of 15 victories and no defeats.

Ellis Griggs of Plainville, Ill., took second place with 12 wins and three defeats.

Allen's top record was an 83.5 ringer percentage for his 15 matches.

Former Justice of High Court Cannot Practice Again

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Permanent disbarment from the practice of law was decreed by the California supreme court today for Gavin W. Craig, one-time powerful Los Angeles political figure and former justice of the second district court if appeals.

Craig was indicted in Los Angeles in 1935 on federal charges of plotting to obstruct justice in the Italo petroleum case. He eventually was convicted and sentenced to a year in jail and a $1000 fine. His disbarment was ordered on the grounds of moral turpitude.

Is Good Living just for rich folks?

It's knowing what's worth-while... not wealth... that leads to fullest enjoyment of living, happy families say. Take Brown Derby Beer, for instance. It equals finest imported Pilsner... yet sells at everybody's price!

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Thomson don't have a lot of money—but they have lots of fun. "My husband is fond of chicken pie and I love to bake this dish for him," says Mrs. Thomson. "Another pleasure with us is Brown Derby. That tang of real Pilsner makes food taste extra good at little extra cost!"

BEER EXPERTS both here and in Europe agree—Brown Derby has the goodness of Old World Pilsner!

Brown Derby—like imported Pilsner—is a beer of sparkling clarity, with natural pin-point bubbles... carbonation that lasts while you enjoy your beer. Brown Derby's fine-spun Pilsner collar, deeply creamed, is beautiful to see.

And when you taste Brown Derby, you taste the unmistakable Pilsner flavor—not sweet, not bitter, just marvelously "in-between." You get the delicate Pilsner bouquet. It's a thrill to realize that Brown Derby saves you the import cost on European Pilsner!

$250,000 TO BE PAID MOVIE GAME WINNERS

With $250,000 offered in prizes for winners of the unique Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign which is being launched today, details of the contest and campaign were announced by local theaters which are taking part in the big event.

In Santa Ana, the West Coast and Broadway theaters have joined with other theaters in promoting the contest and thereby affording the theatergoers a chance to take part in the "Movie Quiz" contest, in which prizes ranging from $10 to the grand prize of $50,000 are offered.

In Orange county, three theater managers were named to take charge of the campaign. The drive, the first industry-wide attempt to buoy attendance at motion picture theaters throughout the nation, runs from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1. Special newspaper advertisements will carry the story. In addition to the million dollar campaign expenditure, which includes a quarter of a million dollars for prizes in the "Movie Quiz" contest, some two million dollars will be spent by theater participating.

There are 5404 pictures in the contest, all being printed in the booklet. The 30 pictures do not have to be the first 30 listed in the book. They can be any 30 out of the 54.

MARY HAMPTON

Will Help You With Your Clothes Problem. Write Her!

KEEP A LOOK-OUT FOR: Those dolman sleeves—These are not historical or due to any other influence. They are just plain new. The ideal "new look" here is a soft, bloused, bulky top, posed over a pencil slim, straight bit of skirt. And top this with a tiny hat! Ladies with annoying busts will work fashion magic for themselves with this one. Only slender ladies will do it too, because it is such new, smart fashion.

Fit and flare—Just the opposite, and yet equally advanced for the new season is a tightly fitted bodice with flared skirt. Of course, a very small waistline! There is scarcely any use attempting this silhouette if the waistline isn't under control.

Boxy again for sport—If the wide-shouldered, boxy coat, straight of lines and chunky of feeling was a favorite to do it again. Only never make the mistake of using a flared skirt with this. The purpose of the plot is to keep lines angular and square, with straight skirt as slender as can be. But you can have plaits. They are straight, although they do give new fullness at the same time. But don't try a doll's hat with this. Top your boxy silhouette with a profile, or pill-box hat, or a good old brimmed sport felt.

Draped is a la Aliz—Aliz started the draped, Grecian line gown and is still riding her beloved idea with independent concern for others and their trends. And it looks modern. That is a soft fabric draped this way and that across the bodice in Grecian folds and sometimes soft folds like massed gathers down the front of a skirt too—or elsewhere.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

The Townsends have scored another political victory in California. The headlines of tonight's newspapers (Wednesday evening) are carrying large black headlines to the effect that Sheridan Downey has won over William G. McAdoo in the contest for the nomination on the Democratic party ticket for United States senator by an estimated 75,000 majority.

Large numbers of Townsends registered in the Republican and Townsend parties had changed their affiliation to that of the Democratic party on the advice of Glen S. Wilson, California Townsend director and that of Dr. Francis E. Townsend for the purpose of accomplishing Downey's nomination. His large majority can be credited to this strategic move on the part of the Townsend voters.

In the November election the prospects are certainly promising for Downey to succeed Senator McAdoo as senator-elect from California. The Townsends are rejoicing at this turn of affairs as it means another member in the United States senate who will help fight the battle to enact the Townsend plan into law.

The situation which has developed in connection with this contest has opened the eyes of some who thought the Townsend movement was dead and impotent as a political force in California. It is to be hoped that the Republican party leaders will awaken to the fact that the Townsends in California must be reckoned with, in any attempt which the Republican party makes to regain the prestige it once enjoyed. As a balance of power vote the Townsends hold the whip hand over both the two major parties as eventually they will come to understand.

President Roosevelt's effort to turn the tide of public opinion in favor of Senator McAdoo and against Sheridan Downey by the news release in which he attacked the $30 per week plan and "other fantastic financial schemes" was undoubtedly harmful to McAdoo instead of helpful.

The President's address of Aug. 15, delivered in support of the Old Age Security law and from which speech he quoted in the news release of Aug. 26 in his attack on "short cuts to Utopia and fantastic financial schemes," acted almost immediately to disabuse the public mind of the likelihood of the President lending his support to any other old age security plan than that of his own. This undoubtedly helped to swell the Sheridan Downey majority vote.

The attempt of the President to harm the chances of Sheridan Downey being nominated will undoubtedly result in creating doubt in the mind of all Townsends and many others as well of the wisdom of voting for candidates to congress, as well as to the senate, who claim loyalty to the administration and its programs. That will be especially true of those voters who believe that the Townsend plan may be a "short cut to Utopia" for America's aged folk and all the rest of the public. All in all it looks as if the President's intervention in the Democratic party's senatorial primary contest may have repercussions which will prove beneficial to Townsend endorsed candidates to the United States congress.

The victory which has been achieved by the joint efforts of the Townsend forces and that of the $30 per week people in the nominating of Sheridan Downey in the primary contest should result in a same force contest in the fall election the Townsend endorsed candidate from this district to congress. Both organizations believe that there is a greater "Utopia" possible for the people than can ever be realized by the Old Age Security law methods and they also believe that there are some short cuts to that "Utopia" despite the President's warning that such folks are being "mild."

The problems which confront the people in connection with the need of Old Age Security being made a reality are national in their scope, and eventually a national remedy must be found. The Townsends believe that the Townsend National Recovery plan is the needed remedy. They labor to make it the law of the nation. They believe that by electing of men to the two houses of congress in sufficient numbers, the coveted goal can be achieved. They have endorsed Mayor C. T. Johnson of San Bernardino as their candidate to congress because like themselves he believes in the Townsend plan. They also seek the election of Sheridan Downey to the United States senate for the same reason. They are hoping that the $30 per week people will join with them in the backing of both candidates.

Don't forget that Santa Ana Club No. 3 is sponsoring an orange county Townsend mass meeting in Townsend hall at 7:30 tomorrow night. This meeting will take on the spirit of a celebration over the victories achieved in the primary contest. William R. Cogswell, the newly appointed deputy Townsend national representative in charge of the nineteenth district is to be the main friends to attract. Lets give our new district manager a royal welcome to Orange county. And last but not least, lets celebrate the Downey and other victories of the primary election.

BRUSH FIRES AID GRAZING

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—A year's trial of controlled brush burning to rehabilitate thousands of acres of California grazing land was reported successful by the state division of forestry.

Two results of the program are an increase in the cattle carrying capacity of brush cleared grazing lands and a great reduction in fire hazards, employees of the division said.

Since the first experiments started a year ago three full time state forestry employees have been assigned to supervise the work.

Cows Given Baths Before Milking

SCOTTSDALE, Neb. (AP)—Scottsbluff dairymen conform to cleanliness regulations not only by keeping their barns spotless, but by giving their cows two baths a day.

One proprietor has erected a rack similar to that used for washing automobiles. Each cow passes through twice a day—before each milking.

manager a royal welcome to Orange county. And last but not least, lets celebrate the Downey and other victories of the primary election.

Adkinson Leads All in Number of Votes Received

By a scant 1500 votes, Ray Adkinson, noted out his nearest "rival" in Tuesday's primaries.

Unopposed for re-election, Adkinson led the entire slate of candidates in total votes. He polled 33,580 complimentary votes, to beat the second most popular candidate, Assessor James Sleeper, who collected 32,033 despite a write-in campaign by Tom E. Danson to unseat him.

County Clerk B. J. Smith was third in total votes with 31,981.

'Black Widows' Due for Purge

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The days of the poisonous little black widow spider may be limited in this country. Uncle Sam's entomologists have a plan to fight it with another spider which they have imported from Haiti, and which particularly likes to feed on black widow eggs. The second spider is harmless.

Right now the two spiders are being watched in federal laboratories. Before the scientists turn the Haitian spider loose they want to be sure it sticks to black widows. Seems they consider the harmless spiders a real help because they eat mosquitoes and flies.

SONJA HENIE OPENS TODAY

Sonja Henie appears as a modern American girl having a swell time on a college campus in her newest hit, "My Lucky Star," which opens today at the West Coast theater with the Jones Family's latest picture, "Safety in Numbers."

Sharing stellar honors with Sonja is Richard Greene, young British actor last seen in "Four Men and a Prayer," while Joan Davis, Cesar Romero and Buddy Ebsen are featured in widely divergent comedy roles. The supporting cast includes Arthur Treacher, George Barbier, Louise Hovick, Billy Gilbert and others.

On the same program is "Safety in Numbers," presenting the famous Jones Family. Mother Jones goes on the air as a domestic problem expert, and has her hands full getting the whole family out of a jam. The cast includes Jed Prouty, Spring Byington, Shirley Deane, Russell Gleason, Ken Howell, George Ernest, Florence Roberts, June Carlson and Billy Mahan.

Both "My Lucky Star" and "Safety in Numbers" are Movie Quiz $250,000 cash prize contest pictures.

The center of the room is usually the safest place to be during an electrical storm. The chimney is a natural target for lightning, so avoid the fireplace and stove during a storm.

27,000 Handicapped Children Given Special Schooling

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Public schools of California are supplying special educational treatment to more than 27,000 handicapped children. Dr. Walter F. Dexter, state superintendent of public instruction reported. A corps of 43 supervisors and 1084 teachers provide direction of their school activities.

Dr. Dexter's report followed a survey by H. D. Hicker, chief of the bureau of vocational rehabilitation.

Of the 27,498 pupils receiving treatment 10,635 were reported as being given remedial instruction to correct defects of speech; 4618 were in special schools or classes for mentally retarded children; 4520 were crippled and 2619 were in special adjustment schools or detention homes because of behavior problems.

Sleeping Sickness Attacks Horses

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Uncle Sam's veterinarians are conducting experiments to curb an epidemic of sleeping sickness among horses which affected 170,000 animals in this country last year.

It is believed the disease is a virus spread by biting insects, especially mosquitoes. The sickness is prevalent in the central west.

MINE'S DEPTH EXCEEDS MILE

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Deep-lode gold mining is attaining new levels in California.

The state division of mines reports the Kennedy mine at Jackson is working at 5400 feet after striking a new orebody at that level, and its operators plan to sink an additional 300 feet.

An adjacent mine, the Argonaut, has reached 6400 feet on an 80-degree incline, or, the state agency says, a vertical depth of one mile.

At the North Star mine near Grass valley the 10,000 foot level is being approached in a winze sunk on ore found earlier in the year at 9600 feet.

Canners Fret About Sardine Shortage

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—Montgomery Phister, cannery representative, says that Southern California fish canneries will join in demanding action from the California Fish and Game commission to conserve the dwindling supply of sardines along the California coast.

Southern California canneries, said Phister, will protest the action of the commission in granting a 30,000-ton allotment to the Santa Cruz Oil company for the current season.

Two Hundred Million People Can't Be Wrong!

IT IS THE Man Who Runs Your Favorite Motion Picture Theatre Speaking: "Yes," he says, "I have heard almost everyone that patronizes my theatre on the subject of screen entertainment. Within the space of a couple of minutes I have heard the same picture enthusiastically applauded and severely criticized, the same stars praised and 'panned'."

"I have come to the conclusion that while the picture that will please everybody, everywhere, will probably never be made, motion pictures, by and large, hit a mighty high average of pleasure-giving. Take any individual picture—and you will find that most people who see it will get a lot of enjoyment out of it."

"Yes, sir, 200,000,000 people can't be wrong and there are at least that many the world over who go to the movies every week. Why? Well, motion pictures can give more happiness to more people at a lot less cost than most anything else the mind of man was ever responsible for. People can go for little money to a comfortable restful theatre—cool in summer and warm in winter—relax, put themselves at peace with the world, sit in quiet darkness and get out of their own lives into another world for two thrilling hours. 'An escape from reality,' psychologists call it, and a mighty pleasant thing too, in much more comfortable surroundings than most of us enjoy in our own homes. The 'movies' have come a long way since I have been in the business and so have motion picture theatres. Sometimes I wonder why there isn't more 'Oh-ing' and 'Ah-ing' at some of the remarkable things that I show on my screen but when I think it over, the answer is easy.

"Today people take the motion picture for granted—just as they take the telephone—and automobile.

"Motion pictures have ceased to be a novelty to be marveled at and have become an entertainment—the greatest the world has ever known."

Next year, the "movies" will be fifty years old—fifty years since that October 6th in 1889 when Mr. Edison first revealed the miracle of pictures that moved.

And every week, in the United States and Canada alone, over eighty-eight million people go to the "movies"—sharing romance, excitement, dreams, love and laughter and a kinship with the far corners of the earth.

The motion picture producer is thoroughly conscious of his responsibility. He realizes the compact he holds with the hundreds of millions of people he must entertain—the obligation which is placed upon him by the unique way in which the motion picture has become a part of the daily life of the people... its influence on the thoughts and actions of millions. He knows that the motion picture cannot stand still, that it must move forward to greater and greater accomplishments.

The Man Who Runs Your Favorite Theatre will show you—in the list of the pictures which are coming this fall—proof, if proof be needed, that the motion picture is moving steadily forward.

To provide the finest array of productions ever released, the Motion Picture Industry has mobilized all its skill, all its imagination, all its resources.

Great stories, splendidly produced... love-filled romance, stirring drama, gay adventure, hilarious comedy, tuneful musicals—star-studded casts filled with your favorites and new faces, new talents, for which the world has been searched. One after another, week after week, these fine pictures are coming to the screen of your favorite theatre.

Entertainment, relaxation, freedom from care are yours in overflowing measure, brought to you by the supreme efforts of the Motion Picture Industry, to make this fall season one you will never forget.

Forty-five Prizes Each of $1.00 Cash

And 25 Pairs of Theater Tickets Good for Admissions to the Broadway or West Coast Theaters

SIMPLE RULES

1. The Journal's New Song Contest will consist of 70 pictures suggesting song titles. One of these drawings will appear in The Journal each day for 70 week-days, beginning Friday, August 26, 1938.

2. The Journal will award 76 prizes to the contestants selecting the greatest number of correct titles to the song contest pictures. The prizes are 51 cash awards totalling $250.00 and 25 pairs of admission tickets to the Broadway or West Coast Theaters. Contestants are to check only one title beneath each contest picture.

3. Each contestant may submit as many complete entries as he or she wishes. Complete sets are 70 different song pictures, each with only one title checked.

4. Entries received by The Journal incomplete or before all 70 song contest pictures have appeared will not be eligible for prizes nor will they be retained for judging when the contest is over.

5. The final date for submitting answers is Nov. 22, 1938, at 8 p. m. Entries must be at The Journal before this time or if mailed, postmarked before 8 p. m., Nov. 22, 1938.

6. Entries which are mailed should be addressed to The Song Contest Editor, box 1500, Santa Ana, California. Entries with postage due will be refused. The Journal will not be responsible for entries which are delayed because of insufficient postage.

7. Elaborately decorated entries will count no more than ordinary sets with titles checked. Entries submitted in the song contest will not be returned.

8. Entries must be submitted in flat packages. Do not roll your coupons. They should be submitted together in numerical order.

9. While contestants may submit as many entries as they wish only one prize will be awarded each winner.

10. Contestants agree to abide by the decisions of judges selected by The Journal. Decisions of the judges will be final.

11. The last song contest picture (No. 70) will be judged only in the event of a tie in any prize group. No song titles will appear with this picture. The best song title to this picture, in the opinion of the judges will decide ties. It must be the title of any published song. All contestants must include a title for picture No. 70 when they submit their entries.

12. The Song Title Contest is open to every one except employees of The Journal and their families.

Salvage

A brisk gale blows up. There's a nine-foot sea, and nasty-looking whitecaps. It'll get to be about 1 a. m., when the "phone rings. "Hello, Steve," the voice will say. "Pretty choppy night... looks like trouble about two miles off Laguna... red flares coming in pretty fast... big boat, too."

It invariably happens, Steve Smith will tell you. The voice would be Harbormaster Tommy Bouchee, or the Newport Beach police. And when the floundering boat's a big one, Steve Smith gets the call. His tug-boat's the largest south of San Pedro.

The Smith Bros. (Steve and Frank) run a boat works, marine hardware and salvage service at Newport, have been for 14 years. Steve handles the salvaging, gets a majority of the glamor, also headaches.

He has complete equipment for salvaging, diving, underwater construction. Salvage calls range from dredging for a diamond ring to rescuing 250-foot ships, even include "legitimate looting" of sunken vessels.

Back in the depression days of 1931-33, when there wasn't many pleasure boats to get in trouble, Smith worked his salvage crew off Catalina doing nothing but looting and salvaging, and in 18 months his men recovered $9000 worth of salable material.

Looting becomes legitimate when insurance companies "write off" sunken boats as a loss, announce they've been abandoned. Salvage outfits get permission to dive for them, often make handsome profits.

Smith Brothers average around 35 salvage calls a year, sometimes two or three in the same night. It's rare that a major storm goes by without some ship getting in trouble.

Usual trouble is with some boat that tried to beat a storm in from Catalina, or a skipper who over-rated his ship's ability to cope with a rough sea. Propeller may be crystallized anyway, and rough weather often makes it break. Majority of Smith's salvage calls are for floundering ships, though he has quite a number of calls to rescue a beached vessel, occasionally has to dive for one that's sunk.

Biggest ships he's ever pulled in are 250-foot picture ships, whose captains get panicky enough during rough weather so they don't mind paying a salvage bill.

"When you go out to pick up a big boat that's floundering, you could demand title to the ship and get it," Smith remarks, "but once you get 'em ashore—safe, warm and fed—they invariably figure they have got in by themselves in another 15 minutes. Yeh, salvage bills are sort of hard to collect."

Smallest item Smith ever searched the bottom of the sea for was an engagement ring. Happened directly off Laguna, and the ring's still there. Doting husband would give it to his wife spent around $1000 looking for the ring, finally gave up.

Nearly all of the salvage work is at night. That's because the storms usually are worse then, and ship-owners tend to get more panicky when their boat is floundering in the dark.

It's seldom that Steve Smith and his crew take ships off the bottom when they've sunk out in the ocean. They rarely dive deeper than 100 feet, and off Newport it's more than 100 feet deep when you get 600 feet out from shore. Diving operations come frequently inside the harbor, though.

Top-notch diver for the Smith service is Charlie Smale, who often works under water three hours at a time, comes up for a cigaret, then goes back down for another three hours. Equipment consists of a three or four-pound rubber "dress," rubber gloves, helmet, pipeline to the surface.

Air is provided by a motor-driven pump (whose air intake is carefully separated from the motor discharge). Two men above water keep the pump going, also keep 40 cubic feet of air in a receiver, so the diver will have plenty of chance to come up in case anything goes wrong.

Jerks on a lifeline sometimes are used for signals (two jerks might mean "Send down a shovel"). Most of the talking in the Smith outfit is done by telephone equipment in the helmets.

Divers must be expert mechanics, welders, masons, since jobs run all the way from looking for bodies to cutting off rods or cementing underwater foundations for buildings. Sample job: Repairing the outfall sewer line two years ago.

Last accident victims whose bodies were recovered by Smith's crew were two airplane crash victims, who died after presenting an aerial fireworks display for the Tournament of Lights.

When floundering ships are too big for Smith to handle, he calls directly to one of the huge salvage outfits in San Pedro. His 72-ton (displacement) tug is big enough to handle most of them,

60,000 Will Attend Three H. B. Labor Day Celebrations

UNIONISTS OF COUNTY WILL MEET AT FETE

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Sixty thousand people will flock to Huntington Beach over the Labor day week-end, as three celebrations occupy separate spotlights. The Orange County Central Labor council's annual three-day get-together and outing will feature the beach's week-end activity, with a giant California pension plan rally and the annual Black Gold days sharing interest.

W. R. Pratt, chairman of the labor celebration, said today he expects 5000 Orange county union laborers to attend the rally, in addition to many labor leaders from outside the county.

Majority of the labor council's activity will be scheduled for Labor day itself, although the outing officially is a three-day affair. Athletic events and a carnival will feature the laborers' picnic, which will be basket-lunch style, and a speaking program is being arranged by Dale Maurice. One of the featured speakers will be Congressman Harry Sheppard, and the remainder of the program will be announced tomorrow.

Committeemen working with Pratt and Maurice included Lee Jump, Steve Davidson and Lee Carson.

The Black Gold days celebration will open tomorrow night with a fiesta dance in the new beach pavilion.

Sunday's program will include surf board riding, a matinee dance, a band concert on the beach grand stand, life saving exhibition and an evening dance.

On Labor day, the labor council's picnic and the $30-every-Thursday plan backers will take over the Black Gold festivities, with Sherman J. Bainbridge of Hollywood featuring the pension meeting in an address, "Life Begins at Fifty."

Dr. Douglas Hough is chairman of the Huntington Beach chamber of commerce committee in charge of coordinating the three celebrations, and his committee includes W. J. Bristol, Ted Tarbox, A. F. Lockett, Boxie Huston, H. W. Hartley, President L. F. Whitaker of the chamber of commerce, Mayor M. M. McCallen, and William Gallienne, executive secretary of the chamber.

9 ANAHEIM MEN WILL GO TO CONVENTION

ANAHEIM.—One of Orange county's largest delegations will be sent by Anaheim to the League of California Municipalities' convention in Santa Barbara Sept. 6 to 9.

Mayor Charles Mann of Anaheim, president of the state group, announces nine persons heading municipal government here plan to attend the convocation. With Mayor Mann will go Charles Pearson, Fritz X. Martin, Lee J. Sheridan, councilmen; George Holden, city attorney; E. P. Hapgood, city engineer; Vard Hanum, water and power superintendent, and two members of the planning commission.

Mann will complete his term as president by presiding at all business sessions in Santa Barbara.

Garden Grove Bids Visitor Good-Bye

GARDEN GROVE.—Neighbors of Mrs. C. N. Franks were invited to her home on North Euclid avenue Tuesday afternoon that they might say their good-bye to her. Sister Mrs. Belter Smith, who was leaving the next day for her home in Glasco, Kansas, after a several weeks' visit with Mrs. Franks and her husband. Before the guests left for their homes after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Martin and her husband, the latter served a refreshment course on trays.

Guests included Mrs. H. A. Lake, Mrs. S. C. Oertly, Mrs. Fred Reafsnider, Mrs. Roy Geren, Mrs. Loretta Ferris, Mrs. Flora Geren, Mrs. A. A. Schnitzer, Mrs. Fred Andres and Mrs. A. D. Smiley.

Council Considers City Zoning Plan

ORANGE.—Planning Consultant Nat. Neff appeared before the city council Wednesday with a complete map of Orange, showing location of industries, apartments, duplexes, single family residences, commercial and public buildings.

Neff recently completed the survey map as the first major step in the city's zoning program. Additional work will be done by the planning commission before public hearings are called for consideration of a proposed zoning ordinance.

though, and he's frequently come to the aid of 150-foot yachts.

Stricken purse-seiners are his favorites; they're usually covered by lots of insurance, thus become good risks for collections.

Ordinary way for floundering ships to send an SOS is with flares, and that's the way Smith gets most of his calls. Later, however, the bigger ones have been using radiotelephone, and the salvage outfit has gone out on half a dozen of these calls in the last six months.

At Pavilion

Ken Baker "The Prince of Swing" and his orchestra have been engaged Friday, Saturday and Monday nights in the Huntington Beach pavilion to complete the elaborate Labor day week-end entertainment program.

GARDEN GROVE TEACHER LIST MADE PUBLIC

GARDEN GROVE.—With the opening of grammar schools of the Garden Grove district scheduled for Monday, Sept. 12, teaching assignments for the four schools of the district were today announced by Supt. S. R. Fliz.

At the Washington building, Principal H. W. Emley will teach eighth grade arithmetic, Miss Helen Knox, seventh grade, social studies, Walter Lehnhardt, physical education and manual training; Miss Floy McCown, seventh grade English; Mrs. Pauline Merchant, eighth grade English and science; Miss Mary Margaret Reed, arithmetic; Miss Estelle Sherman, eighth grade English; Miss Fairs Virgin, sixth grade social studies; Miss Helen Shaffer, social studies and physical education; Mrs. Helen Wiseman, seventh grade English and literature. Specialized teachers working with all schools in the district will be Miss Ruth Jensen, art; Miss Opal Knox music and Mrs. Helen Gramlich, nurse.

Lincoln teachers will be Mrs. Ethel Evans, principal and third grade; Miss Lucille Allen and Miss Matilda Hill, fifth grade; Miss Helen Aupperle, and Mrs. Gladys Reed, first grades; Miss Mabel Bumgardner, third; Miss Marcia Armichael, and Miss Marcella Smith, fourth grades; Miss Van der Horst and Miss Clara Lee Ritter, second grades and Miss Beth Toland, kindergarten and third grade.

Mrs. Mary Thomason will be principal at the Hoover school where first grade will be Mrs. Eulalie Head and Mrs. Marjorie Ralston, first; Miss Eunice Bragg, second; Miss Floyce Haas, third; Mrs. Mary Moody, fourth; Mrs. Hazel Fulton, fifth; Howard Moore, sixth and seventh.

At Bolinas school, Mrs. Willis Conner, the principal, will teach the third and fourth grades, Mrs. Gladys Bratsch, the second and third and Mrs. Mignon Waters, first grade.

40 AT SILVER TEA IN G. G.

GARDEN GROVE.—The silver tea given by the Queen Esther society of the First Methodist church at the Emmett Smith home Wednesday afternoon was attended by 40 guests who were received by Miss Betty Smith, president of the society, Miss Velma Barnes, advisor of the group, and Mrs. Smith.

The tea table covered with a lace cloth and centered by a pretty arrangement of yellow dahlias and baby's breath was presided over by Mrs. J. M. Chilson. Mrs. Fred Andres and Mrs. George Crane, Miss Ferne Schnitzer, assistant advisor of the society, assisted the members in arranging the dainty cakes served with tea and coffee.

The guests after being served tea were invited to the lovely garden of the Smith home where a program was given. Included were songs by Ben Allen who played his own accompaniment on the electric guitar; marimba numbers by Jean Holt, a piano solo by Martha Jones, reading by Sadie Campi and a vocal solo by Raymond Holt with Sadie Campi as accompanist.

Huntington Beach Wins New Point in Fight to Prevent State From Making Leases

Huntington Beach today had won another round in its battle against state leasing of tidelands as the state lands commission was cited into court to show cause why it should not be enjoined from making leases.

Bids on leases of 835 acres of state-owned tidelands were unaccepted today, and the commission must show cause by Sept. 12 why an injunction should not be issued.

The order was obtained in Los Angeles from Superior Judge Emmet Wilson by Gordon Booth, who charged the commission's requirement that operators get written permission from owners of land

CITRUS MEET SET FOR OCT. 7 IN ANAHEIM

The Orange County Farm Bureau Chorus received the official blessing of the parent organization at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the organization at the Farm Bureau offices in Orange.

Several matters of business were considered and the meeting was concluded with a surprise celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the appointment of Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, to his Orange county post.

The chorus completed its first full season last year and is expected to operate again this year as a part of the night school of the Orange High school. More than 45 singers were enrolled last year under the direction of L. M. Sharpless. Interest is reported as active this year with an increase in the number of singers.

Chairman Frank C. Latham was the recipient of praise for the work of his tax committee in working for low taxes during the consideration by the county officers of the tax budget for 1938-39. The Farm Bureau tax committee has made a practice of analyzing the budgets for years and making suggestions to the supervisors.

Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg announced a citrus economic marketing conference to be held on October 7 at Anaheim at which current questions will be discussed.

October 15 has been set as the date of the annual 4-H Achievement day, according to Frances Liles, home demonstration agent, who also reported on activities of the boys and girls in other lines, chiefly the current trip to Davis, upon which 30 members have embarked and the large number of entries being made in the junior department of the Pomona fair.

H. B. Woodrough, first president of the Orange County Farm Bureau, was a visitor at Woodrough center, which was located 20 years ago at what is now known as Costa Mesa. He recalled some of the events of that period when Wahlberg was first appointed as farm advisor in the county. Following his remarks, Wahlberg was the recipient of a cake adorned with candles and responded with a few recollections of the past.

Mrs. R. K. Kennedy, chairman of the Cypress-Magnolia farm center, home department, which served dinner to the directors and also to the officers of the county home department, was also honored as it was her birthday.

R. W. Hull, vice president, presided over the meeting of the board in the absence of L. P. Halderman.

LIONS OF TWO CLUBS DINE ON DUCK AT G. G.

GARDEN GROVE.—Lions club members of the Huntington Beach club joined Garden Grove Lions for a duck dinner at the Woman's clubhouse, Wednesday evening, additional guests being Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana and Homer Wallace of Anaheim.

A quartet from the beach club, called "The Big Four" entertained with several vocal numbers. Dell Harding of Los Angeles who recently returned from a tour of 56 countries, on which he made his expenses by singing, boxing, writing articles and taking pictures which were sold to newspapers and syndicates as speaker for the program told of his travels and of the many interesting experiences he encountered. He also displayed implements of warfare gathered from the various places visited and told of items of interest concerning them.

Speaking of the countries of Europe having dictators, the worst of them all, he said, is Greece. Much to his surprise he said he found Mussolini to be a man of very small stature and in order to appear as a speaker for the program he told his hearers that they were extremely fortunate in being Americans.

TEACHER VISITS G. G. GARDEN GROVE.—Miss Eleanor Crill who is now associated with the Pasadena Day nursery as a teacher will spend the week-end holiday with her father J. W. Crill at their ranch home on Harbor blvd.

The Core.. No More

ORANGE.—For a community this size, Orange has one of the largest clubs in Rotary International, it was stated by Fred Mark of San Bernardino, governor for this district, during a program here yesterday. Orange has 93 Rotarians and a population of approximately 9000.

FULLERTON.—Craft work, judged on merits according to the age of the child, is on display in downtown store windows, showing results of a part of the summer playground program conducted in Fullerton.

ORANGE.—Eight city officials will represent Orange at the annual convention of the California League of Municipalities in Santa Barbara from Tuesday to Friday next week. They are A. C. Boice, mayor; William Batt, C. M. Carlson and Henry Bandick, councilmen; Gordon X. Richmond, city attorney; George Franzen, chief of police; C. C. Bonebrake, city engineer; and A. L. Tomblin, fire chief.

ANAHEIM.—Although circulation of books and magazines at the Anaheim library has shown a gradual decrease during the past six years, the stock of books has been increased from 1500 to 2000 volumes annually, it was reported by Miss Elizabeth Calnon, librarian.

TUSTIN.—Three Four-H members are representing Tustin at the annual state 4-H convention in Davis. They are Margaret Grisett and Marie Ramsworth of the Tustin Lavewires and Johnnie Barnes of the Blue and Gold club.

LAGUNA BEACH.—"House-party," drama written by Ken Britton and directed by Frank Seward, will be presented by the Community Players tonight, Saturday and Sunday nights. One of the largest crowds of the season attended the preview performance at the Community playhouse last week.

FULLERTON.—September is the final month in which golfers can join the Hacienda Country club without an initiation fee, it was announced by R. H. Terrell of the club. The board of directors has adopted a $25 initiation fee effective Oct. 1, he said.

FULLERTON.—Numerous gifts were presented Ralph Layton, retiring president of the National Association of 20-30 clubs, at a banquet in his honor here Wednesday night.

TUSTIN.—Stanley Newcomb of Laguna Beach, Tustin High school and Redlands university graduate, now a senior at Princeton seminary, will occupy the pulpit of the Tustin Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

ORANGE.—Members of the Lionettes' softball team of the Major Girls' league were guests of the Orange Lions, their sponsors, at a luncheon Wednesday. Those present included Lois Terry, Melita Forster, Ruth Lee Sears, Elsie Winchell, Kasui Oshiki, Bobbie Wakeman, Melba Estes, Phoebe Miller and Corius Hamilton.

LAGUNA BEACH.—A committee of 50 men and women will pass on all matters relative to the erection of the proposed new library, for which a bond issue of $30,000 will be submitted to voters Sept. 19.

TUSTIN.—Four hundred students in the elementary school and three hundred in the high school are expected to register for the opening of classes here Sept. 12.

ORANGE.—The Community Welfare board held its first meeting of the fall season at South Olive street headquarters today, with Mrs. Myrtle Bay, executive secretary, presiding.

At Farewell Dinner

GARDEN GROVE.—J. W. Crill attended a farewell dinner for Dr. Stokdyke, president of the bank of cooperatives at Oakland in the Mayflower hotel, Los Angeles, Wednesday evening. The honor guest has been given a year's leave of absence and is going to Washington, D. C., where he will be associated with the Farm Credit association.

GIRL IS WIZARD LONDON. (AP)—Girton college, Monmouthshire, is convinced it has a mathematical genius. Rosa M. Morris, 23, whose parents both were teachers, won scholarships valued at $3000 in her first year. Miss Morris is credited with discovering a method of solving problems in aerodynamics which hitherto defied all mathematicians.

NAMING OF RADIUM...
Strange as it seems, radium—that mysterious, powerful element—possesses such strange potencies that 45 months before its actual discovery it was understood, described and named!
First scientist to observe the phenomenon of radioactivity was Henri Becquerel, who nearly described the strange properties of uranium. Pierre and Marie Curie were fascinated with the subject and immediately set out to discover the source of this strange energy.

The Curies obtained some uranium compounds, finally found that radioactivity also occurred in thorium and Polonium, which Marie discovered and named.

Marie then concluded that radioactivity was motivated by an unknown element, never before seen nor described. The Curies prepared a thesis on this belief for the Academy of Science.

Unlucky May

May Yohe, once the world's most beautiful actress and the toast of two continents, died last week in squalor in a Boston tenement, forgotten by the world which once worshipped at her dainty feet.

Superstitious persons have said for years that her ill luck came from the fact that she once owned the Hope diamond.

A study of her career shows, however, a far simpler force which sent her spinning from the heights down to the depths of society.

Beautiful and beloved wife of wealthy Lord Hope, at the turn of the century she gave up friends, family, and decent society to run away with a younger man, whom she later married after her grieving husband had divorced her. "I can get away with it," she boasted.

But she couldn't. Her money went, and when her looks faded she also lost the man for whom she had flouted society.

May Yohe learned, as many another has, that to kick aside the decencies with which society has surrounded itself for its own protection, brings on bad luck far more certainly than any so-called curse surrounding any diamond or ruby.

New York youngsters in a hobby contest voted in favor of the Big Apple. That's one ahead of both old political parties. All they can think of is the Big plum.

Americans in Spain

In refusing to accept the pact which would "isolate" the Spanish civil war by the withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain, Nationalist General Franco gives as one excuse the presence of thousands of Americans fighting in the loyalist ranks. The proposed pact, Franco points out, makes no disposition of these troops.

Whether Franco's excuse is valid or not, it sharply emphasizes the point that the presence of Americans in the ranks of foreign armies is embarrassing to this government.

Although they have pledged loyalty to the foreign flag, and are fighting as foreigners instead of Americans, their foemen still consider them as Americans.

Every citizen of the United States who enlists in a foreign fighting army—be it loyalist or nationalist, Chinese or Japanese—puts an added burden on our state department in its endeavor to keep us out of foreign entanglement and war.

It takes a smart man to make the brain and the tongue work at the same time.

Europe?

Historians tell us that in 1914, if Kaiser Wilhelm's government had known that England would enter the war on the side of France, Germany never would have marched on Belgium.

In the Czechoslovakian crisis of today the British government is not repeating that mistake. It is making its intentions crystal clear.

The cabinet met in London at the same time the French cabinet was meeting in Paris. And the two governments arrived at the same conclusion—that under no circumstances could they permit Germany to take over Czechoslovakia by force. France based her position on her defensive alliance with the Czech republic, and Britain on her common front with France.

Mitsui, Japan's big rich man, owes four million dollars taxes. God help the poor; the rich can owe.

Hats and Stuff

Fortune magazine brings word that the fellows who made those dinky little semi-eggshell hats for the ladies probably lost their socks in the transaction.

The reason was not the dinky little hats in themselves, but that the millinery business in America—the manufacturing end, that is—is so disorganized and hotly competitive that its enterprisers can hardly avoid losing money.

Now there's no fun in anybody's losing money, but if anybody must lose any—well, you know what we mean. We'd have to think hard to pick a better candidate for that sad operation than the fellow who made those same dinky little hats.

China charges that Japan is using poison gas. Likely enough; but Japan can express regrets for it.

No Sucker Control

The department of justice seized several tons of fake lottery tickets recently and, so the story goes, an avid lottery fan came forward and asked if he couldn't buy a few.

The lotteries that take millions of solid American dollars abroad each year—with quite a little sprinkling of the home-product variety, too—were not fully developed at the time Mr. Barnum coined his famous saying.

The fake tickets seized, if only half distributed, would reduce the chances of winning in America to almost the zero point. And yet many Americans, knowing the terrific odds against them, continue to contribute.

All speeds have increased since Barnum's time. Instead of "a sucker born every minute," it is more likely that the rate has been increased to something like 345 an hour.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK.—Every so often the United States congress, observing a suspicious rash on the hide of the nation, makes a political Wasserman test to determine whether the country has become infected with communism. This has been done before, and at times the patient has been in a high state of alarm while waiting for the verdict, but, happily, the results always have been negative.

Now the symptoms are out again, and the Dies committee on un-American activities decided that inasmuch as the two maladies are almost alike it would test for nazism at the same time. Probably it is nothing worse than poison ivy, but it does no harm to check up.

Both diseases are subtle and great mockers up to the point where the patient, if not treated, is just about to collapse. Both pretend to revere the United States constitution while working for its destruction, and both invoke democracy for protection from its defenders. Both result in butchery of persons and liberties, both are anti-christian, utterly ruthless and cynical and devoted to the belief that any treachery is justified by the end. One spirochete is red, the other black; that is the only difference.

The hearings thus far have served at least one good purpose in familiarizing the public with the term "fellow traveler." Up to now this has been a trade term of the double-dome periodical press, and the common public has had no pet name for those who for lack of determination or reasons of cunning remain outside the official fold of the communist organization, but tag along doing the communists' dirty work in the guise of progressives and reformers.

Of course, there has been much indignation among the communists, who point out that theirs is a regular political party, forgetting that by similar cunning a nazi might easily organize a legal nazi party within the wide limits of the American constitution. The nazis might develop an auxiliary of "fellow travelers," too, and probably will, for that matter, for they have imitated the communists in so many things, and vice versa, that rivalry is their only quarrel now.

The Dies inquiry has been called a red hunt, and, far from depressing it, if I were a member of the committee I should admit as much. It is a nazi hunt and a red hunt; that is the committee's duty and purpose, and it is a patriotic work. I am also an enthusiastic believer in red baiting, being one of those who are damned tired of affected patience and forbearance under the most licentious baiting by the reds. There is plenty of legitimate material with which to bait them, and there is no better source than a congressional inquiry.

THE RIGHT MATE

Have you fallen in love this summer? Has the August moon done its trick or have you really found the right partner? That's a terrifically important question.

In a valuable book, "Plan for Marriage," edited by J. K. Folsom, the following words on making the right choice make helpful reading: "Scientific observation expels at least one popular fallacy. Namely, it is widely believed that opposite types attract each other like the poles of a magnet, and ought normally to marry. Science finds no evidence for this belief."

"In some respects like tends to mate with like; in other respects people tend to choose at random without regard to likeness or unlikeness. Frequently one is attracted by some trait in the partner which fascinates him because of its novelty, or its apparent differences from his own traits or those of other familiar persons. This unlikeliness-to-himself, however, is more probably incidental rather than the real reason for the attractiveness."

"Commonly the trait is one which he himself wants to acquire, and may possibly acquire later. When all traits are considered, the partner is probably more similar to him than she would be to a man chosen purely at random."

"On the whole, one is safer to marry a person near his own age, of his own race, religion, culture and social background; a person of interests, ideals and beliefs compatible with his own; such matings in fact are more common than those of opposite or radically unlike backgrounds."

"It is better for mates to be reasonably similar in physical energy and mental ability—otherwise one may become a drag on the other. It is dangerous to marry in order to uplift somebody or to be uplifted."

"In some minor characteristics of temperament, taste and style, it may be safe to choose a so-called opposite. But the only absolute rule of opposites is that one should choose the opposite sex." — Mrs. Penrose Lyly.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—There is a big shock in store for democratic politics in all purge states.

They have been impatiently looking forward to the completion of the primaries in September as the end of the White House's purging operations. Once the primaries were out of the way the boys figured all would be forgiven and forgotten and they would be welcomed back as good democrats once more.

Well, they are mistaken. The finish of the primaries will not finish the urge. It will be the start of a new and much tougher one. From then on the president intends to move in on the patronage office-holders who, as one White House spokesman expresses it, have been "biting the hand that feeds them."

In other words, the henchmen of anti-New Deal democratic senators and congressmen are slated for the axe.

Regardless of whether such men as Senators George of Georgia, Tydings of Maryland, and McCarran of Nevada win or lose in their primaries, the state machines they have built up through the White House are going to be smashed by the White House.

Henceforth the test of an appointee to a key federal local job will not be who is sponsoring him but whether the appointee is a dependable White House supporter. And the test isn't only going to apply to the anti-administrations up for election this year.

It will apply to Vice President Jack Garner, Senator Burt Wheeler, Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, Senator Pat Harrison, Senator Josiah Bailey of North Carolina, and other anti-New Deal chieftains.

Behind the new White House strategy, of course, is 1940. For a long time Roosevelt's liberal advisers have been telling him that it was hopeless to attempt to unseat anti-administrations in Capitol hill if he persisted in arming them with patronage ammunition in their home bailiwicks.

Opposition of federal appointees to various New Deal candidates, plus reports from all over the country that anti-administration democrats are using patronage to build up machines to oppose Roosevelt's control of the 1940 convention, finally convinced him that the purge should continue.

He told Jim Farley of his intention at the day-long conference between them at Hyde Park. Big Jim's reply was, "Whatever you say. You're the boss."

Tugwell Marriage
Despite her denials, Tanis Tugwell, 21-year-old daughter of Professor Rex Tugwell, did take out a license to marry the son of a Tennessee ex-miner. And there is still a possibility that the marriage will go through.

Tanis has a job with the farm security administration, which, when Tugwell ran it, was called resettlement administration. She got her job, at a salary of $1080, shortly after her father left Washington late in 1936.

FSA sent her to the Cumberland mountains to help coach the homesteaders at Crossville in a historical pageant. One of the things she did was to make records of mountain folk-songs.

At Crossville, Tanis met young Lon Watley, aged 22, son of a homesteader who had been a coal miner. Lon was a lively youth, and a leader among the young people. He had had a short stretch of college training at work-your-way Berra college in Kentucky.

The fact that he had no job and no prospects didn't worry Tanis. She fell in love with him, and they planned marriage.

This was reported to Papa Tugwell by Margaret Valiant, Tanis' boss in the pageant project. Tugwell's reply was significant. He said: "You can't spank a 21-year-old child."

But he became more concerned when he heard they actually had taken out a marriage license. He wired her to return at once to Washington. This and another wire from Rex Tugwell's mother on Lake Ontario, brought Tanis back in the company of disappearing Miss Valiant.

In Washington, Tanis stayed away from the office for three days and stoutly denied that she planned marriage. She insisted that there must be another girl named Tanis Tugwell in the little town of Crossville, Tenn. But she is the intended bride.

Note: At the moment Miss Tugwell's parents are going through a divorce action.

LIFE SAVING ON THE ROADS

If America has suffered more fatalities in the conflict on the highways than in the World War—and so say the statisticians—then the recent marked reduction in murder by motorcar may save as many lives as keeping out of war. Seventy-five thousand in ten years would be the saving at the present rate; there have been 3,670 fewer deaths from traffic accidents in the United States in the first six months of 1938 than in the summer period of 1937.

The full measure of hope in this downward trend is even more apparent when the mileage rates rather than the yearly deaths are compared. At the University of Michigan where safety engineers have been comparing notes at a National Institute of Traffic Safety Training, Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Automotive Safety Foundation, reported that highway fatalities were at the rate of eighteen per 100,000,000 vehicle-miles in 1936, while in the first six months of this year the rate was only twelve.

He said that at the 1936 rate there would have been 45,000 killed on American roads this year instead of the estimated 32,000. That is a rate of saving which would mean 130,000 lives in ten years.

Surely that is worth much more work and money than has been expended to make it possible. Most hopeful—and most challenging—is the conviction of the safety men that this great gain is directly traceable to safety efforts which can be intensified and expanded.

Couldn't some of the money and thought now directed to preparations for life-taking war be better turned to this life-saving effort?—Christian Science Monitor.

As long as there is public faith in the government there is no cause to worry.

HALF PINTS POPULAR

That the cocktail lounge and the cafe did not banish hip-pocket guzzling in California is attested by official figures.

The half-pint bottle continues to be the most popular size with California purchasers of distilled spirits, according to the annual report of the state board of equalization on the sale of liquor excise tax stamps for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938.

Of the 78,505,743 stamps of all denominations sold, 27,468,054 or 34.99 per cent, valued at $1,373,402.70, were the five-cent denomination used on half-pints.

Ten-cent stamps for pints, though fewer in total had a greater value, however, 24,741,158 or 31.52 per cent of the total bringing in $2,474,115.80.

Net sales for the year totaled $8,165,828.46 against $8,063,890.56 for 1936-37, a gain of $101,937.90 or 1.26 per cent.

According to William G. Bonelli, board member from this district, the eight counties in the district sold 46.20 per cent of the total with a value of $3,779,002.99.

The other 53.80 per cent were sold in the remaining 50 counties of the state.—G. A. Martin in Santa Maria Times.

U.S. Motoring

WASHINGTON.—U.S.—American motorists spent approximately $7,500,000,000 more than last year on gasoline.

That was more than 28,000,000 motor vehicles—one for every five persons—in the United States on Jan. 1 of this year.

Gasoline was the second largest expense, totaling approximately $3,000,000,000, of which nearly $1,000,000,000 went to states and the Federal government in gasoline taxes. State taxes amounted to $761,998,000 and Federal taxes to $192,181,210.

Registration and inspection fees totaled approximately $350,000,000, all of which was collected by states and cities. Personal property taxes probably added $50,000,000 to the total cost, although no exact data was available on that.

Insurance—another item on which no data was available—was believed to have cost motorists an additional $150,000,000. Traffic fines probably added $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 to the total cost of automobile operation.

Assuming an average of 16 miles per gallon of gasoline, motorists drove nearly 200,000,000,000 miles last year. That estimate did not include 650,000,000 gallons used in farm tractors and stationary engines and exempt from state taxes.

Travel by automobile is increasing, the bureau report showed. Consumption of gasoline last year was 1,460,000,000 gallons greater than in 1936, an increase of 7.6 per cent.

Gasoline Taxes Higher
State gasoline taxes in 1937 were $70,578,000 greater and Federal taxes increased $14,605,000 over 1936. During the year four states increased the tax rate by 1 cent a gallon, bringing the average rate for the United States from 3.85 to 3.91 cents a gallon.

Rates of the tax ranged from 2 cents a gallon in the District of Columbia to 7 cents in Florida, Louisiana and Tennessee. Only two states showed decreases in gasoline tax income last year. They were Nebraska and Tennessee.

States reporting the largest increase from gasoline taxes were: New York, $61,915,000; Pennsylvania, $55,720,000; California, $46,624,000; Ohio, $46,538,000; Texas, $41,678,000; Illinois, $36,266,000; Michigan, $32,430,000; Indiana, $23,497,000; North Carolina, $23,393,000; Florida, $22,466,000.

I'LL TELL YOU....

BY BOB BURNS

I was reading the other day where the crooks of this country cost the government and its citizens several billion dollars every year. I couldn't understand how this was possible until a wealthy lady explained it to me in a round about way. She was ravin' about a maid of hers that stole her diamond necklace.

She said, "These crooks not only steal from honest people, but they beat our government out of the income tax on their crooked gain." I says, "Well, if you're sure the maid stole the necklace, why don't you tell the police?"

And the lady says, "Well, I can't very well do that because I smuggled the necklace over here from Europe!"

Philosophy

Here is a story about the richest woman in the world. Her name was Hetty Green. When she died she was worth $60,000,000, and she had made most of it herself. A remarkable woman.

Her income was $300 an hour; yet she would buy a newspaper for two cents, read it, and then have her car stand on the street and try to sell it to someone else.

On cold winter days she often padded herself with newspapers to keep warm. Saved the wear and tear on clothes, she said.

One day she dressed her own son up in rags and took him to a clinic so that she would not have to pay money to a doctor for medical treatment.

She was so penurious she lived in shabby boarding-houses; sometimes she lived under assumed names so that no one would suspect the poor old lady had more than enough to pay her week's rent. She was so haunted with the idea people would steal her money that she had pockets made in her skirts, and carried greenbacks and securities around with her; and she did all of this unmindful of the fact that when she sat down there was a rustling like a mouse in a wastebasket.

Once the landlady of a rooming-house looked at Hetty's frayed old bag suspiciously.

"I'm sorry, but you've got so little baggage I'll have to ask you to pay the first week in advance."

Hetty complained a bit, but paid. In constant fear of being assassinated for her money, she always kept along the outer edge of the sidewalk at night to lessen the chance of anyone springing upon her from a darkened doorway.

She kept her money in the most amazing places. She was the wealthiest private depositor in the National Park bank, in New York, and had a large compartment in the main vault. When she wished to look into her private box she would make the guard leave, then pull out her box and, sometimes, would sit on the floor to poke around in it.

Due to a change in the bank's plans, it became necessary for her to open the compartment before witnesses.

The witnesses gathered around cautious, suspicious old Hetty, whose face was working, distorted, so outraged was she that people should pry into her private affairs. The very moment had come.

Clunk! went the key. The only thing whatsoever in the steel box was one lone pair of dusty overshoes!

The money question is something we all have to solve. And our success in life is greatly dependent on how we solve it. Respect money, acknowledge its power, but do not let it master you as it did Hetty Green. Hetty died at the age of 81, a lonely, unhappy woman. She had depended on money alone for her happiness in life. It can't be done. Happiness depends on health, money, friends; not on any one of these alone.
